GI Drug Deaths In Vietnam Rise To 89 This Year

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Army said today that 89 American soldiers may have died from overdoses of drugs in South Vietnam during the past 10 months.

Expressing "grave concern" about the problem, the Army said 25 drug abuse deaths were confirmed through autopsies and that doctors suspected overdoses caused 64 other fatalities.

The Army also disclosed that 746 troops were admitted to medical facilities in drug-related cases through September, compared with 527 cases during all of 1969. Last year, there were 16 confirmed drug deaths, the Army said.

The Army statement came after Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., issued a statement in Washington Thursday saying investigators of his Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee had found that GI deaths in Vietnam from overdoses of drugs had skyrocketed and that military leaders had failed to clamp down on drug abuse.

The Army announcement in Saigon acknowledged a "significant increase in incidents of drug abuse," but said also that a new and more accurate reporting procedure went into effect last Aug. 1. Prior to that time, some drug-related cases may have been listed on medical records under other categories of illness, the Army said.

The Army said, however, that the new procedures alone could not account for the increase. The announcement also blamed more widespread usage of hard drugs such as heroin for the higher toll.

To alleviate the drug problem, the Army said, new programs are being inaugurated which involve improvement in law enforcement, better educational programs and more intensive medical and psychiatric treatment.

The Army already has inaugurated an amnesty program under which drug users can turn themselves in for treatment and rehabilitation without risking punishment.

"Responses to this program have indicated that military personnel are seeking assistance in stopping the use of drugs," the Army said.

Czechoslovakia Notes Death From Cholera

GENEVA (AP) — The World Health Organization today reported the first cholera death in Czechoslovakia in the current epidemic in the Middle East and Southeast Europe.

The U.N. agency said five persons have been stricken in the Czechoslovak village of Vojany, in the Trebisov district, and all were employed at the local power plant. It said four healthy carriers also have been identified.

He added, however, the jurors "were obviously not presented with evidence that convinced them the laws had been broken

SALT Talks To Resume In Helsinki

Await Soviet
Answer To U.S.
Arms Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. envoys set off today for Helsinki and round 3 of the year-old talks with the Soviet Union on curbing the superpower arms race.

The six-man delegation headed by U.S. disarmament negotiator Gerard Smith is hoping for progress in the talks before the expected Christmas recess—but the delegates are not predicting a U.S.-Soviet arms cut agreement by then.

The big question as the Helsinki round opens Nov. 2 will be how the Soviets respond to a U.S. offer made last July just before the strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—recessed in Vienna.

The American offer proposes: An overall ceiling on numbers of long-range missiles held by both sides, at approximately their present totals; a specific limit on the number of big nuclear rockets such as the Soviet SS9; and abolishing antiballistic missiles or limiting them to defense of a national command site.

Soviet diplomats have indicated they want SALT negotiations to go forward in a businesslike, no-propaganda fashion—but they have not said yes or no to the U.S. offer nor have they made a counter-proposal.

Washington and Moscow have avoided injecting into SALT their quarrels over other issues ranging from the Mideast to Southeast Asia.

If SALT does produce a treaty, it would be the most significant U.S.-Soviet disarmament pact of the nuclear age. And because SALT deals with basic security weapons of the Big 2

Sure Loser Prepared To Concede

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Elizabeth Kreshool respects tradition. Therefore she's busy preparing her loser's speech for election night.

Mrs. Kreshool is the substitute Democratic candidate for the Delaware Legislature in a district where Republicans have won for the last 114 years—since the party was formed.

She accepted the nomination last week after the original candidate pulled out, but only after being assured she would lose.

Right away she won the endorsement of the Procrastinators Society of America, which sent her a telegram. She quickly took a day off, apparently fearing her campaign would peak too soon.

Then she selected a campaign manager whose last candidate lost by 34,000 votes. After he disappeared, her husband one arm in a sling, stepped in to let out some more slack.

Now she's ready for that speech. In a tongue-in-cheek try at her political valedictory she intones: "The TV, radio and the press won't have Kreshool to kick around any more."

Reds Shatter Vietnam War Lull

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops shattered the lull in the ground war in Vietnam today with heavy attacks on two allied positions. Four Americans, three South Vietnamese and 16 North Vietnamese were killed, and 27 Americans and 12 South Vietnamese were wounded.

U.S. officials had been anticipating a stepup in enemy activity to "grab headlines" just before the U.S. congressional elections next Tuesday. They said the North Vietnamese hoped to influence American voters against candidates backed by the Nixon administration.

In the heaviest assault, North Vietnamese troops moving under cover of a mortar barrage attacked Landing one Oasis, a U.S. artillery base in the central highlands defended also by South Vietnamese forces.

The U.S. Command said three Americans were killed and 21 wounded in the five-hour, pre-dawn battle, and some of the artillery was slightly damaged. Field reports said three South Vietnamese troops also were killed and 11 wounded. The North Vietnamese lost 14 men, some of them cut down by American helicopter gunships.

Other North Vietnamese troops 23 miles north of Saigon made a similar attack on troops of the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment in night bivouac 25 miles north of Saigon. One American and two North Vietnamese were killed and six Americans were wounded in the one-hour clash, and a former Viet Cong serving as a scout with the Americans also was wounded. Field reports said some armored personnel carriers were damaged.

The attacks were the heaviest ground assaults on U.S. positions since last July 22, when 12 Americans and 61 North Vietnamese were killed near Fire Base Ripcord, in the northern part of the country. Since then South Vietnamese bases have come under heavy shelling, and there have been numerous sharp ground clashes involving government troops. But activity involving U.S. forces has been mostly light.

Informed sources said the North Vietnamese were aided in assembling for the attacks by the curtailment of American air operations this week due to storms and hard rains lashing South Vietnam.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command, in a rush to meet President Nixon's latest cutback of 40,000 American troops by Dec. 31, announced the deactivation of four more Army units and the return to the United States of a fifth unit a total cut in American strength of about 2,000 men. Four of the units are helicopter companies with about 100 aircraft. Some of the helicopters already have been transferred to the South Vietnamese air force.

Current U.S. strength in Vietnam is 377,100 men, and this is to be reduced to 344,000 under Nixon's fifth phase of troop cutbacks.

Ballooning Welfare Rolls Worrying Federal Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's welfare rolls have ballooned 20 per cent in the past year to a record 12.2 million persons, the government's latest statistics show.

The increase of two million welfare recipients from June 1969 to June 1970 is causing a severe tax squeeze at all levels of government and cutbacks in some welfare services and payments.

Federal officials say President Nixon's current $8.7 billion welfare budget may have to be boosted by as much as $1 billion to cover the unexpected new costs.

Government experts cite three factors in the welfare surge: The lagging economy and attendant unemployment; recent court rulings and administrative decisions loosening welfare eligibility requirements; and a new willingness among the poor to apply for welfare following publicity campaigns by antipoverty organizations describing relief as a right and not a mark of discredit.

The federal government pays about 52 per cent of the nation's welfare bill for dependent children and their mothers, the blind, the disabled and the needy age. State and local governments split the remainder.

Property tax increases are expected in such cities as Milwaukee and Los Angeles to help finance the welfare load, federal officials say. Some Ohio counties recently introduced a new sales tax for the same purpose. At the same time, relief services are being sliced because of the cost crunch.

The cost of federally assisted welfare has doubled in the past four years, says Federal Welfare Administrator John D. Twinn, and could double again by 1975 if President Nixon's proposed family assistance welfare reform measure is not enacted by Congress.

The bulk of the welfare-load increase in the past year has come in the program aiding families with dependent children—ADC. About 80 per cent of ADC recipients are abandoned children or those whose mothers are unmarried.

U.S. Displays Irritation At Holding Of 2 Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, displaying its first public diplomatic irritation over the Soviet refusal to release a U.S. Army plane and its high-ranking passengers, has charged Moscow with violating U.S.-Russian consular agreements.

After eight days of talking in restrained, optimistic language, the State Department, Thursday called for the immediate release of the passengers who include two American generals.

A statement handed to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin said, "There is no justification for any further delay by the Soviet Union."

Meanwhile, the Soviets continued to portray the plane's landing in Russia across the Turkish border as a hostile act and linked it to alleged reconnaissance flights from U.S. bases.

A commentary in the Soviet news agency Tass said the incident "has again drawn the attention of the world public to the serious and constant threat of peace," from "400 large and 2,000 small American war bases on foreign territories."

The American bases, Tass said, are "situated in the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries and are widely used for espionage and other hostile activities."

The United States maintains the small white plane flew into Soviet territory accidentally. Besides the generals, an American major and a Turkish colonel were on board for what the U.S. says was a tour of Turkish border installations.

Dobrynin was handed the statement during a meeting with acting Secretary of State John N. Irwin. Afterwards the Soviet envoy said release of the passengers "depends on the results of the investigation" his country is conducting.

Talking to newsmen in the lobby of the State Department, Dobrynin said "the general consensus of this meeting was that it would be better for this not to happen again and for the generals to stay where they belong."

Specifically, the U.S. statement accused the Russians of ignoring terms of the 1968 U.S.-Soviet consular convention by not allowing American diplomats to see the passengers of the plane for five days after it went down.

The convention, the statement said, "specifically requires that access be accorded within four days at most."

Blame Shared In Viet Incident

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today that nine South Vietnamese civilians were killed, 25 wounded and 15 missing as the result of a mistaken attack by American helicopters on a group of fishing boats last June 20.

The command said a joint U.S.-South Vietnamese inquiry had shown that the U.S. and South Vietnamese armies "share responsibility" in the case and that persons who file valid damage claims will be compensated.

Officials launched the investigation after a South Vietnamese legislator claimed more than 100 civilian fishermen were killed or missing in an incident which occurred in the Gulf of Sam off South Vietnam's Kien Giang Province.

Represents Worst In U.S., Nixon Asserts

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, the target of rocks, bricks, bottles, eggs, red flags and other missiles hurled by antiwar demonstrators in his native state, says he was attacked by "an unruly mob that represents the worst in America."

Nixon, riding away from a Republican rally Thursday night in the San Francisco Bay city of San Jose, was besieged by hundreds of obscenity-shouting protesters. With him in his limousine were California Gov. Ronald Reagan and U.S. Sen. George Murphy.

Later, after the President arrived at the Western White House in San Clemente, a fire caused smoke damage in the oceanside villa and forced a pajama-clad Nixon to evacuate. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the blaze was caused by heat conducted downward from the fireplace in Nixon's second-floor study to wood with in the hollow wall of the dining room below.

The San Jose violence was the most serious aimed at any president in this country since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

Emerging from an auditorium where GOP partisans had given him a warm reception, Nixon climbed atop the hood of his limousine in the glare of photo floodlights.

Facing directly toward his noisy opponents about 50 yards away, he thrust his jaw forward and flung both arms upward. With his fingers, he formed "V" symbols, waving toward the crowd.

The mobbing of the Nixon motorcade lasted perhaps five minutes as his car moved through a narrow opening that had been cleared in the crowd by helmeted riot police.

His limousine and other vehicles in the cavalcade were hit repeatedly by large rocks and other objects. Several persons, including a Secret Service agent, a newsmen and a television cameraman suffered minor injuries.

The second auto behind Nixon's vehicle stalled when, after it was hit by a rock, its policeman-driver slammed on the brakes. This produced a chain reaction crash of six cars—none seriously damaged—that brought a loud cheer from the crowd pushing in on each side.

A bus carrying members of Nixon's staff and local political dignitaries had four windows smashed by rocks.

One of the occupants, showered by glass fragments, was

Klein Sees Congress Still Demo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican capture of the Senate majority is "beyond what you ought to expect," Herb Klein, President Nixon's chief spokesman said today.

Klein, White House director of communications, said, "I think there's a better chance" of winning both the House and Senate in 1972.

As for this year, Klein, in a taped radio interview with Melromedia, summed up his view in these words:

"The average loss in Senate seats is four. So looking realistically at what's happened in each year since 1960, you have to take the conclusion... that if we were to break even in the House it would be a major gain against that trend. If we were to break even in the Senate or make slight gains, it would also have that effect.

"Obviously, we'd hope to control the Senate, and if all those close votes go our way, we could. But it'd be beyond what you ought to expect."

Klein rejected Democratic charges that the Nixon administration is trying to win votes by playing on the fears of the people.

Civilian Slain In Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A British soldier shot a civilian early today during a four-hour street battle between Roman Catholics and troops which the army said was punctuated by sniping.

The army brought the rioting under control with riot gas just before dawn.

An army spokesman changed an earlier statement that said the civilian was wounded accidentally.

"We regret that further inquiries have shown that the statement issued earlier to the effect that the discharge of a shot from a firearm in Brompton Park was accidental was incorrect," he said.

He refused a more detailed statement except to say "a further inquiry is being held."

Gilligan Would Unload Guard Weapons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic gubernatorial candidate John J. Gilligan says he does not dispute the indictment of 25 persons in connection with spring disorders at Kent State University.

"Obviously, the people on the jury were presented with evidence and testimony which convinced them that 25 people probably broke the laws of Ohio," Gilligan told newsmen in Lima Thursday.

He added, however, the jurors "were obviously not presented with evidence that convinced them the laws had been broken

by any of the National Guard officials."

Four students were killed in a confrontation with guardsmen on the campus May 4.

Gilligan said as governor he would send troops onto campuses if requested, but added troops would be armed and would load their weapons only on command of senior officers.

Meanwhile, Gilligan's Republican opponent, Roger Cloud, proposed Thursday the state contract with licensed private vocational schools to provide adequate training in some occupational areas.

"It may well be advisable to work out cooperative agreements with qualified training schools" to keep up with the demand for vocational education, he said in a statement issued in Columbus.

"Before we begin to add to the taxpayers' burden to obtain more money for schools," Cloud said, "we should investigate every way that costs can be trimmed."

He noted the large investment

involved in building space and specialized equipment required to provide adequate training in certain fields. "Private schools could immediately begin training 30,000 high school students without any new capital investment."

Gilligan also discussed education on a campaign swing through northeastern Ohio today. He accused the GOP administration of permitting school districts to get "deeper and deeper into financial trouble."

In remarks prepared for delivery before the Northeastern Ohio Teachers Association in Akron and the Cleveland Teachers Union, he defended his endorsement by the Ohio Education Association.

Cloud has charged Gilligan "bought" the endorsement with his state income tax proposal.

Gilligan said teachers should be commended for taking a stand saying "they indeed care about the quality of the education we provide our children." He said GOP leaders haven't mentioned "the fact that these same teachers have endorsed

As for this year, Klein, in a taped radio interview with Melromedia, summed up his view in these words:

"The average loss in Senate seats is four. So looking realistically at what's happened in each year since 1960, you have to take the conclusion... that if we were to break even in the House it would be a major gain against that trend. If we were to break even in the Senate or make slight gains, it would also have that effect."

"Obviously, we'd hope to control the Senate, and if all those close votes go our way, we could. But it'd be beyond what you ought to expect."

Klein rejected Democratic charges that the Nixon administration is trying to win votes by playing on the fears of the people

Ballooning Welfare Rolls Worrying Federal Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's welfare rolls have ballooned 20 per cent in the past year to a record 12.2 million persons, the government's latest statistics show.

The increase of two million welfare recipients from June 1969 to June 1970 is causing a severe tax squeeze at all levels of government and cutbacks in some welfare services and payments.

Federal officials say President Nixon's current $8.7 billion welfare budget may have to be boosted by as much as $1 billion to cover the unexpected new costs.

Government experts cite three factors in the welfare surge: The lagging economy and attendant unemployment; recent court rulings and administrative decisions loosening welfare eligibility requirements; and a new willingness among the poor to apply for welfare following publicity campaigns by antipoverty organizations describing relief as a right and not a mark of discredit.

The federal government pays about 52 per cent of the nation's welfare bill for dependent children and their mothers, the blind, the disabled and the needy age. State and local governments split the remainder.

Property tax increases are expected in such cities as Milwaukee and Los Angeles to help finance the welfare load, federal officials say. Some Ohio counties recently introduced a new

Gromyko, Scheel To Hold Meeting

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko flew to Frankfurt from East Berlin today for a four hour East-West problems with West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel.

He is the first Soviet foreign minister to visit West Germany. Gromyko and Scheel earlier this year negotiated the Soviet-West German nonaggression treaty which Chancellor Willy Brandt signed in Moscow last August.

Brandt has said he would not submit the treaty for ratification until there is some improvement in the situation in and around West Berlin.

sales tax for the same purpose. At the same time, relief services are being sliced because of the cost crunch.

The cost of federally assisted welfare has doubled in the past four years, says Federal Welfare Administrator John D. Twine, and could double again by 1975 if President Nixon's pro-

U.S. Displays Irritation At Holding Of 2 Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, displaying its first public diplomatic irritation over the Soviet refusal to release a U.S. Army plane and its high-ranking passengers, has charged Moscow with violating U.S.-Russian consular agreements.

After eight days of talking in restrained, optimistic language, the State Department, Thursday called for the immediate release of the passengers who include two American generals.

A statement handed to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin said, "There is no justification for any further delay by the Soviet Union."

Meanwhile, the Soviets continued to portray the plane's landing in Russia across the Turkish border as a hostile act and linked it to alleged reconnaissance flights from U.S. bases.

A commentary in the Soviet news agency Tass said the incident "has again drawn the attention of the world public to the serious and constant threat of peace," from "400 large and 2,000 small American war bases on foreign territories."

The American bases, Tass said, are "situated in the immediate vicinity of the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries and are widely used for espionage and other hostile activities."

The United States maintains the small white plane flew into Soviet territory accidentally. Besides the generals, an American major and a Turkish colonel were on board for what the U.S. says was a tour of Turkish border installations.

Dobrynin was handed the statement during a meeting with acting Secretary of State John N. Irwin. Afterwards the Soviet envoy said release of the passengers "depends on the results of the investigation" his country is conducting.

Talking to newsmen in the lobby of the State Department, Dobrynin said "the general consensus of this meeting was that it would be better for this not to happen again and for the generals to stay where they belong."

Specifically, the U.S. statement accused the Russians of ignoring terms of the 1968 U.S.-Soviet consular convention by not allowing American diplomats to see the passengers of the plane for five days after it went down.

The convention, the statement said, "specifically requires that access be accorded within four days at most."

Blame Shared In Viet Incident

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command said today that nine South Vietnamese civilians were killed, 25 wounded and 15 missing as the result of a mistaken attack by American helicopters on a group of fishing boats last June 20.

The command said a joint U.S.-South Vietnamese inquiry had shown that the U.S. and South Vietnamese armies "share responsibility" in the case and that persons who file valid damage claims will be compensated.

Officials launched the investigation after a South Vietnamese legislator claimed more than 100 civilian fishermen were killed or missing in an incident which occurred in the Gulf of Sam off South Vietnam's Kien Giang Province.

Gilligan Would Unload Guard Weapons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Democratic gubernatorial candidate John J. Gilligan says he does not dispute the indictment of 25 persons in connection with spring disorders at Kent State University.

"Obviously, the people on the jury were presented with evidence and testimony which convinced them that 25 people probably broke the laws of Ohio," Gilligan told newsmen in Lima Thursday.

He added, however, the jurors "were obviously not presented with evidence that convinced them the laws had been broken

by any of the National Guard officials."

Four students were killed in a confrontation with guardsmen on the campus May 4.

Gilligan said as governor he would send troops onto campuses if requested, but added troops would be armed and would load their weapons only on command of senior officers.

Gilligan said such troops would be "under very firm control and military discipline."

Meanwhile, Gilligan's Republican opponent, Roger Cloud, proposed Thursday the state contract with licensed private vocational schools to provide adequate training in some occupational areas.

"It may well be advisable to work out cooperative agreements with qualified training schools" to keep up with the demand for vocational education, he said in a statement issued in Columbus.

He noted the large investment

involved in building space and specialized equipment required to provide adequate training in certain fields. "Private schools could immediately begin training 30,000 high school students without any new capital investment."

Gilligan also discussed education on a campaign swing through northeastern Ohio today. He accused the GOP administration of permitting school districts to get "deeper and deeper into financial trouble."

In remarks prepared for delivery before the Northeastern Ohio Teachers Association in Akron, he defended his endorsement by the Ohio Education Association.

Cloud has charged Gilligan "bought" the endorsement with his state income tax proposal.

Gilligan said teachers should be commended for taking a stand saying "they indeed care about the quality of the education we provide our children." He said GOP leaders haven't mentioned "the fact that these same teachers have endorsed

MRS. ALICE F. KIRK
Mrs. Alice Freda Kirk, 62, died early Friday at her home, Route 1, Ashville.

One Injured, One Cited In Road Mishaps

Two separate one-car accidents in Pickaway County Thursday evening resulted in injury to one person and a citation to another.

Alice L. Tiburzio, 32, Lucasville, suffered a shoulder injury when her auto left the road, jumped a guard rail and went down an embankment. She was treated at Berger Hospital. She told Pickaway Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz she was southbound on Route 23 near the Route 22 east exit ramp at 9 p.m. when she was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car.

Earl William Hunt, 24, New Holland, was cited by Deputy Phil Brown for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Hunt's auto left Route 22 in Perry Township at 9:30 p.m. and went through a fence. He told Brown he didn't remember what happened.

Auto Parts Shop Escapes Fire Damage

A gasoline fire at the Circleville Auto Parts on E. Franklin, miraculously caused little damage in an incident Thursday.

City firemen reported the fire caused an estimated $10 damage to an extension cord and head rest on a "creeper" at the rear of the shop when gasoline fumes were ignited by a radiator cleaner tank coil.

Shop manager Marshall Winner and a youth were at work in the shop draining gasoline from a car tank to do repairs. The close, damp atmosphere yesterday apparently did not allow the fumes to escape the building. In the heavy concentration, they were ignited by the radiator tank.

Both men ran from the building across the alley and to the fire department to sound the alarm. Winner received numerous injuries dodging a truck in the alley, but neither were harmed in the blaze.

The Pickaway County board of elections has posted diagrams of the machines as they will appear with all the candidates and issues ... It would be wise for voters to study the diagrams and familiarize themselves with the position of candidates and issues on which they wish to vote ...

At the primary a one half mill levy for operation of the Brooks-Yates School and Sheltered Workshop failed because many people wishing to vote for it could not find it on the machine, election officials believe ... That is why the board is urging all voters to study the diagram before election day.

THE ALARM went off accidentally at the Ashville Bank early this morning ... Two sheriff's cruisers wheeled out of the jail parking lot, turned west on Franklin, sirens screaming and red lights flashing, turned on Scioto, went through a red light as they turned on to Main in their rush to get to Ashville ... But red lights and sirens were to no avail ... There was a train on the Norfolk and Western Railroad track.

OPERATORS at an Ashville beauty shop were in the "spirit" of Halloween today ... Vicki Archer, Susan Toole and Bev Myers decided to serve their customers in complete holiday environment today and even went so far as to dress for the part ... Disguised as a bum, a Daisy Mae and a hippie, the operators pulled their little "trick" which was a "treat" for all.

CHILD HEALTH CARE

Subluxations of spinal vertebrae occur frequently in children, and create a potential danger to your child's health. Chiropractic clinical research has established the fact that "slipped" vertebrae resulting from childbirth injuries, falls, and other accidents, that occur during infancy and childhood are quite common. In fact, three out of every four children fall on their head and neck during the first five years of life.

Childhood falls and accidents, though seemingly unimportant at the time, can be a major cause of illness and disease. A chain reaction takes place — the fall — the slipped vertebrae — the breakdown in nerve function and expression of vital nerve energy — the loss of normal body function and resistance — eventual sickness and disease. Nervousness, emotional illness, sleeplessness, frequent colds, sore throat, and bronchitis, loss of appetite, headaches, asthma, bowel irregularity, digestive, circulatory neurological, muscular, and kidney disorders can all result from spinal subluxations which interfere with vital nerve function. Periodic chiropractic examination of your child's spine and nervous system should be made a major part of regular health routine.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

Rose Mary Wood, Nixon's personal secretary, who ducked to the floor and explained, "Just like Caracas." Nixon was stoned in the Venezuelan capital in 1958, when he was vice president.

Another bus carrying members of the White House press corps emerged from the mele with seven shattered windows.

Four of the demonstrators were arrested including one for investigation of assaulting a policeman and another for investigation of inciting to riot.

In a statement issued after he arrived here for a five-day stay at his oceanfront home, Nixon said:

"The stoning at San Jose is an example of the viciousness of the lawless element in our society. This was no outburst by a single individual. This was the action of an unruly mob that represents the worst in America."

Ziegler said Nixon told him, "It is time for this kind of disgraceful action to stop."

In his statement, the President said, "I will discuss what America must do to end the wave of violence and terrorism by the radical, antidemocratic element in our society."

He did not say when and where he would take up the question but it was assumed he might deal with it in addressing a Republican rally tonight in Anaheim, 35 miles north of San Clemente.

MRS. ALICE F. KIRK

Mrs. Alice Freda Kirk, 62, died early Friday at her home, Route 1, Ashville.

One Injured, One Cited In Road Mishaps

Two separate one-car accidents in Pickaway County Thursday evening resulted in injury to one person and a citation to another.

Alice L. Tiburzio, 32, Lucasville, suffered a shoulder injury when her auto left the road, jumped a guard rail and went down an embankment. She was treated at Berger Hospital.

She told Pickaway Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz she was southbound on Route 23 near the Route 22 east exit ramp at 9 p.m. when she was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car.

Earl William Hunt, 24, New Holland, was cited by Deputy Phil Brown for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Hunt's auto left Route 22 in Perry Township at 9:30 p.m. and went through a fence.

He told Brown he didn't remember what happened.

Auto Parts Shop Escapes Fire Damage

A gasoline fire at the Circleville Auto Parts on E. Franklin, miraculously caused little damage in an incident Thursday.

City firemen reported the fire caused an estimated $10 damage to an extension cord and head rest on a "creeper" at the rear of the shop when gasoline fumes were ignited by a radiator cleaner tank coil.

Shop manager Marshall Winner and a youth were at work in the shop draining gasoline from a car tank to do repairs. The close, damp atmosphere yesterday apparently did not allow the fumes to escape the building. In the heavy concentration, they were ignited by the radiator tank.

Both men ran from the building across the alley and to the fire department to sound the alarm. Winner received numerous injuries dodging a truck in the alley, but neither were harmed in the blaze.

The Pickaway County board of elections has posted diagrams of the machines as they will appear with all the candidates and issues. It would be wise for voters to study the diagrams and familiarize themselves with the position of candidates and issues on which they wish to vote.

At the primary a one-half mill levy for operation of the Brooks-Yates School and Sheltered Workshop failed because many people wishing to vote for it could not find it on the machine, election officials believe. That is why the board is urging all voters to study the diagram before election day.

THE ALARM went off accidentally at the Ashville Bank early this morning. Two sheriff's cruisers wheeled out of the jail parking lot, turned west on Franklin, sirens screaming and red lights flashing, turned on Scioto, went through a red light as they turned on to Main in their rush to get to Ashville. But red lights and sirens were to no avail. There was a train on the Norfolk and Western Railroad track.

OPERATORS at an Ashville beauty shop were in the "spirit" of Halloween today. Vicki Archer, Susan Toole and Bev Myers decided to serve their customers in complete holiday environment today and even went so far as to dress for the part. Dressed as a bum, a Daisy Mae and a hippie, the operators pulled their little "trick" which was a "treat" for all.

County Administrators Attend SOSA Session
County Superintendent Judson Lanman and district superintendents within the area attended an assembly of the Southwestern Ohio County Superintendents Assn. meeting Wednesday at Lake White Lodge.

Also present at the session was retired superintendent, George McDowell, county supervisor, Edward Martin, and superintendents John Henn, Benis Lutz and Donald Shearer.

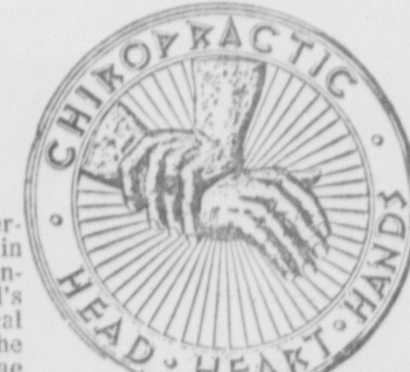

The men were guests with other school administrators from the area to hear a panel discussion by Myrl H. Shoemaker, 21st District representative; Senator Oakley Collins and Vernal G. Riffle concerning possible tax reforms and school financing which may appear in upcoming sessions of Ohio Congress.

CHILD HEALTH CARE

Subluxations of spinal vertebrae occur frequently in children, and create a potential danger to your child's health. Chiropractic clinical research has established the fact that "slipped" vertebrae resulting from childbirth injuries, falls, and other accidents, that occur during infancy and childhood are quite common. In fact, three out of every four children fall on their head and neck during the first five years of life.

Childhood falls and accidents, though seemingly unimportant at the time, can be a major cause of illness and disease. A chain reaction takes place — the fall — the slipped vertebrae — the breakdown in nerve function and expression of vital nerve energy — the loss of normal body function and resistance — eventual sickness and disease. Nervousness, emotional illness, sleeplessness, frequent colds, sore throat, and bronchitis, loss of appetite, headaches, asthma, bowel irregularity, digestive, circulatory neurological, muscular, and kidney disorders can all result from spinal subluxations which interfere with vital nerve function. Periodic chiropractic examination of your child's spine and nervous system should be made a major part of regular health routine.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

Rose Mary Wood, Nixon's personal secretary, who ducked to the floor and explained, "Just like Caracas." Nixon was stoned in the Venezuelan capital in 1958, when he was vice president.

Another bus carrying members of the White House press corps emerged from the melee with seven shattered windows.

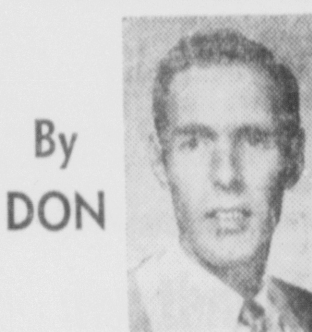

Four of the demonstrators were arrested including one for investigation of assaulting a policeman and another for investigation of inciting to riot.

In a statement issued after he arrived here for a five-day stay at his oceanfront home, Nixon said:

"The stoning at San Jose is an example of the viciousness of the lawless element in our society. This was no outburst by a single individual. This was the action of an unruly mob that represents the worst in America." Ziegler said Nixon told him, "It is time for this kind of disgraceful action to stop."

In his statement, the President said, "I will discuss what America must do to end the wave of violence and terrorism by the radical, antidemocratic element in our society."

He did not say when and where he would take up the question but it was assumed he might deal with it in addressing a Republican rally tonight in Anaheim, 35 miles north of San Clemente.

The apparatus responsible for producing electrostatic-electromagnetic waves is called the transmitter, likewise, the apparatus which makes possible the reproduction of the original effects of these waves is known as the receiver. As the electrostatic-electromagnetic waves need no medium for the distance which they travel, it is possible to transmit and receive from short distances as well as long distances.

Furthermore, communication can be made from a transmitter to any number of receivers at the same time, whether they are in the next block or in the next state, or whether they are stationary or moving.

Gilligan, Cloud Top List Of Gubernatorial Candidates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud, Republican, seeks to cap his 35 years in public office with election to governor this fall.

Cloud, 60, first entered public service in 1936 with election to the Logan County Board of Education. In 1940 he was elected Logan County Commissioner. Cloud is a native of DeGraff.

In 1948 Cloud was elected to the Ohio House and was re-elected every two years through 1965 when he was appointed to an unexpired term as state auditor. The following year he was elected to a full, four-year term as auditor.

During his nine terms in the General Assembly, Cloud was chosen speaker a record five times, two terms from 1954-57 and three from 1961-65.

At DeGraff Cloud graduated as valedictorian of his high school at age 16. He attended Ohio State University for one year and later received his law degree from the California Institute of Law through correspondence courses.

Cloud is married and has two children. He owns an 80-acre farm in Logan County.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for governor, entered the last week of campaigning with most polls giving him a lead over his strongest opponent, Republican Roger Cloud.

The Cincinnati insurance executive's public career began in 1953 with his election to the Cincinnati City Council. He served there until 1964 when he won election to Congress from Ohio's First District.

He served one term before losing a re-election bid to the U.S. House by Robert Taft Jr. Gilligan was elected again to the Cincinnati City Council in 1967, he lost a second bid for national office to U. S. Sen. William B. Saxbe in the 1968 senatorial race. Gilligan, 49, married and the father of four children, saw Naval service in World War II. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action off Okinawa in the Pacific theatre in 1944. Following the war, Gilligan returned to school and received his master of arts degree from the University of Cincinnati. He graduated from Notre Dame University in 1943.

Before his entry into public life he lectured at Xavier University in his home town of Cincinnati.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Edwin G. Lawton, 46, the American Independent Party candidate for governor, is convinced his "third party" message of "self-help" is being heard, despite a lack of substantial public support and financial assistance.

And he is proud to admit he employs the Sioux Indian characteristics of thrift and individual initiative to advance the cause of the party. Alabama's George Wallace fostered in 1968. Lawton lived with Assiniboine tribe of the Sioux nation in his native Montana for six years following the death of his parents when he was 12-years-old.

Lawton moved to Ohio in 1943 after 39 months as an enlisted man with the U. S. Army. Part of that time was spent in combat during the North African campaign.

With a formal education that ended in the fifth grade, Lawton studied engineering and business administration in his spare moments. He parlayed his home-study program into a small manufacturing concern that made saddles and holsters for toy guns until "high taxes" forced the concern into a decline.

Since that time Lawton has worked as a purchasing agent for a Columbus firm.

Lawton is married and has two children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John A. Crites of Akron, an ordained minister, is one of three independent, write-in candidates in the race for governor this fall.

Crites, 48, is minister of the Church of Jesus Christ Christian, "Gospel of the Kingdom" in Akron. He was ordained at Maranatha Bible Seminary, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Crites, a machanic for Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, is a graduate of Akron East High School. He served as an enlisted man in the Navy during World War II.

In his only previous try for public office, Crites was defeated for mayor of Mogadore in 1948. He is married and has five children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marcia Sweetenham, 27, of Cleveland is the Socialist Workers Party candidate for governor.

Miss Sweetenham graduated from Oberlin College in 1964 and taught in the East Cleveland school system for a while afterward. She is now a substitute teacher in the Cleveland area.

Her political involvement began five years ago when she joined the SWP. Since then she has participated in work of the people to Abolish Ohio Abortion Laws, and has been active in the women's liberation and civil rights members. Miss Sweetenham has also served with the Cleveland Area Peace Action Council.

This is the first time she has been a candidate for public office.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Lesiak, 40, of Parma is running as an independent candidate for governor in the Nov. 3 election because he is a "concerned citizen."

Born in Cleveland in 1930, Lesiak graduated from high school just in time for the Korean War. He spent two years as an enlisted man during that war. Lesiak attended Dayton University, Cleveland's Fenn College, and Portia Law School in Massachusetts before taking up accounting as a professional career.

He is currently employed as a cost management supervisor for a Cleveland electric firm. He has been active in alumni and professional organizations for a number of years, but this fall's race for governor is his first try for elected state office.

He is married and the father of five children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph Pirincin, of Cleveland the Socialist Labor Party's choice for governor this fall, is no stranger to politics.

Pirincin, 66, was the unsuccessful SLP candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in 1948 and again in 1952. In that same year, 1952, he was also the SLP candidate for the U. S. Senate from Ohio. In 1969, Pirincin ran for mayor of Cleveland.

Pirincin, a native of Yugoslavia, came to the U. S. in 1910. He left grade school at the age of 12 for work in the steel mills of Pittsburgh. His recruiting for the Socialist Labor Party began at about that same time. Pirincin retired as an SLP organizer and as the owner of a small Cleveland restaurant recently.

Pirincin Credited a recent court ruling relaxing Ohio's stringent election eligibility law for his presence on the November ticket.

Gilligan, Cloud Top List Of Gubernatorial Candidates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Roger Cloud, Republican, seeks to cap his 35 years in public office with election to governor this fall.

Cloud, 60, first entered public service in 1936 with election to the Logan County Board of Education. In 1940 he was elected Logan County Commissioner. Cloud is a native of DeGraff.

In 1948 Cloud was elected to the Ohio House and was re-elected every two years through 1965 when he was appointed to an unexpired term as state auditor. The following year he was elected to a full, four-year term as auditor.

During his nine terms in the General Assembly, Cloud was chosen speaker a record five times, two terms from 1954-57 and three from 1961-65.

At DeGraff Cloud graduated as valedictorian of his high school at age 16. He attended Ohio State University for one year and later received his law degree from the California Institute of Law through correspondence courses.

Cloud is married and has two children. He owns an 80-acre farm in Logan County.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for governor, entered the last week of campaigning with most polls giving him a lead over his strongest opponent, Republican Roger Cloud.

The Cincinnati insurance executive's public career began in 1953 with his election to the Cincinnati City Council. He served there until 1964 when he won election to Congress from Ohio's First District.

He served one term before losing a re-election bid to the U.S. House by Robert Taft Jr. Gilligan was elected again to the Cincinnati City Council in 1967. he lost a second bid for national office to U. S. Sen. William B. Saxbe in the 1968 senatorial race. Gilligan, 49, married and the father of four children, saw Naval service in World War II. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action off Okinawa in the Pacific theatre in 1944. Following the war, Gilligan returned to school and received his master of arts degree from the University of Cincinnati. He graduated from Notre Dame University in 1943.

Before his entry into public life he lectured at Xavier University in his home town of Cincinnati.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Edwin G. Lawton, 46, the American Independent Party candidate for governor, is convinced his "third party" message of "self-help" is being heard, despite a lack of substantial public support and financial assistance.

And he is proud to admit he employs the Sioux Indian characteristics of thrift and individual initiative to advance the cause of the party. Alabama's George Wallace fostered in 1968. Lawton lived with Assiniboine tribe of the Sioux nation in his native Montana for six years following the death of his parents when he was 12-years-old.

Lawton moved to Ohio in 1943 after 39 months as an enlisted man with the U. S. Army. Part of that time was spent in combat during the North African campaign.

With a formal education that ended in the fifth grade, Lawton studied engineering and business administration in his spare moments. He parlayed his home study program into a small manufacturing concern that made saddles and holsters for toy guns until "high taxes" forced the concern into a decline.

Since that time Lawton has worked as a purchasing agent for a Columbus firm.

Lawton is married and has two children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John A. Crites of Akron, an ordained minister, is one of three independent, write-in candidates in the race for governor this fall.

Crites, 48, is minister of the Church of Jesus Christ Christian, "Gospel of the Kingdom" in Akron. He was ordained at Maranatha Bible Seminary, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Crites, a machanic for Good-year Tire and Rubber Co., Akron, is a graduate of Akron East High School. He served as an enlisted man in the Navy during World War II.

In his only previous try for public office, Crites was defeated for mayor of Mogadore in 1948. He is married and has five children.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Marcia Sweetenham, 27, of Cleveland is the Socialist Workers Party candidate for governor.

Miss Sweetenham graduated from Oberlin College in 1964 and taught in the East Cleveland school system for a while afterward. She is now a substitute teacher in the Cleveland area.

Her political involvement began five years ago when she joined the SWP. Since then she has participated in work of the people to Abolish Ohio Abortion Laws, and has been active in the women's liberation and civil rights members. Miss Sweetenham has also served with the Cleveland Area Peace Action Council.

This is the first time she has been a candidate for public office.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Donald Lesiak, 40, of Parma is running as an independent candidate for governor in the Nov. 3 election because he is a "concerned citizen."

Born in Cleveland in 1930, Lesiak graduated from high school just in time for the Korean War. He spent two years as an

Brown, Kennedy Seek Secretary Of State Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ted W. Brown, 64, Republican candidate for re-election as Ohio's secretary of state, apparently isn't tired of the job.

Brown, a graduate of the Springfield public school system and Wittenberg University, was first elected secretary of state in 1951. He has been re-elected every four years since.

Brown had served as Clark County recorder between 1933 and 1936, later moved up to an administrative position with the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles from 1939-1944.

During the war years Brown served as an administrator of a military program for the emergency movement of trucks in case of invasion and emergency coal program.

enlisted man during that war. Lesiak attended Dayton University, Cleveland's Fenn College, and Portia Law School in Brown is married to the former Florence Mitchell of Clinton County and has three daughters.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John F. Kennedy, 32, the Democratic candidate for secretary of state for Ohio, is more than a little pleased his name has a familiar ring.

Kennedy, a native of Cleveland, is making his first try for public office Nov. 3.

The insurance and securities broker is a graduate of Cleveland elementary schools and St. Edwards High School. He attended both the University of Maryland and Cuyahoga County Community College in Cleveland.

Kennedy is married to the former Rita Lowe of High Wycombe, England. The couple has four children.

I am Jimmy Steinebrey, and my Grandpa (known to me as PaPa) is running for county commissioner. I don't know anything about politics, but my PaPa really is a very special person. You'd think so, too, if you got to spend a vacation on his farm. (P.S. My little brother, Jeffrey, says, "Me, too.")

We — Barbara, Sue, and Delbert Jr. — want to add, "Us, too!" Our reasons are a little different, but they support the same man. His sincerity, respect, and integrity in his private life can only assure a competent, capable commissioner for Pickaway County.

Regaining Respectability

Turning San Francisco's Haight-Asbury section into a "respectable" neighborhood has become a competitive obsession with several of the city's citizens' groups. It should be an interesting experiment in rehabilitation.

Haight-Asbury once was a fashionable residential section, containing 30 blocks of large Victorian houses. As the section aged, it turned into a blue collar neighborhood. Then came the hippie invasion of the 1960s, and with it a notoriety which made the district famous around the world.

Following the lost generation came the dope addicts and criminal elements looking for easy prey. Last year there were 30 murders in the area, and countless other crimes of violence.

At this point the mayor called for a citizens' committee to plan a renewal campaign financed by federal funds to individual property owners. Two other citizens' groups quickly formed, one to act on its own to rehabilitate the structures and the other to form a sort of "model hip community."

Out of the competitive spirit of the various movements ought to come some interesting concepts on how to bring a one-time picturesque neighborhood back from the dead. Something truly innovative will be required if Haight-Asbury is to live down its most recent reputation.

Divisive Game

The capacity TV sports programs have for promoting domestic discord may be one reason Monday night football is apparently not drawing the large audience envisioned by the network masterminds.

Housewives have proved they can live, although reluctantly, with an occasional baseball game stretched over a six-month season, or basketball or hockey or sports specials. But there is something about grown men bent on mayhem for possession of an awkwardly-shaped ball that gets their dander up.

And when a telecast is tagged into Monday night prime time after the male of the species has spent the weekend glued to the set, the easiest solution this side of the divorce court appears to be a twist of the dial.

Filling The Void

Everything that goes up must come down is an adage made obsolete by the space age. There are, at latest count, more than 1,800 pieces of hardware orbiting in space — some functional, most just junk.

Their point of origin reads like a United Nations of Outer Space: The United States, Soviet Union, France, Red China, NATO, West Germany, Canada, Australia, Japan and European Space Research Organization.

Imagine what traffic signs are going to look like when manned space flight really takes place.

According To Boyle

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — For the panhandlers of New York City, the days of "Can you spare a dime for a cup of coffee?" are long gone.

As in any modern American business, panhandling has come up with a new bag of gimmicks to increase productivity.

A man, wearing a neat business suit and carrying a slick valise, comes up to you in the Port Authority bus terminal near Times Square.

"Hey buddy," he says. "Help me out, huh? Lost my wallet somewhere and haven't got enough change to get home to New Jersey. Need 40 cents."

He is difficult to resist. But despite his well-groomed, commuter look, the man is probably a panhandler.

Another man, observed recently on a Manhattan street corner, has come up with a more elaborate and probably more profitable version of the same game. He held a fistful of cash and stopped passersby saying: "Do me a favor, pal? My car got towed away and I don't have enough cash to get it out of the police garage. All I need is four more bucks and I'll have the $75 for the fine and the towing fee."

Clever, huh? So clever, in fact, that this panhandler and other industrious beggars may take in as much as $200 or more a week by simply asking for spare change.

Panhandlers tend to congregate in areas where they will meet unsuspecting, less hardened out-of-towners. The bus and railroad stations are favorite spots, as are the major tourist attractions.

Music is often used to lure nickels and dimes from people. A man who stations himself daily near St. Patrick's Cathedral plays the violin while people drop change into a hat on the sidewalk. Another fellow plays a trumpet daily near a major department store. He has a dish for change and a sign saying, "Trying to get better."

Passengers getting off buses at the Port Authority often have their bags grabbed by persons who say they'll take them to the nearest taxi stand. Once at the taxi stand, they demand a dollar for their services. Official notices charge 35 cents and no tipping is permitted.

Begging is against the law. In New York it is illegal for persons to loiter for the purpose of begging or soliciting. The maximum penalty is $250. Few beggars, however, are ever arrested. Most citizens don't bother turning in complaints.

Try and Stop Me

NORMA, an upstairs maid, notified Mrs. Eberhaven that she was quitting her job for one paying more by a neighbor, Mrs. Newcastle. "Hmmp," bristled Mrs. Eberhaven. "I intend to tell Mrs. Newcastle about your foul temper tantrums." "Fine and dandy," approved Norma. "That will teach her to mind her P's and Q's!"

One of the most modest of the current crop of baseball heroes is Atlanta's incomparable Hank Aaron. They tell of a fan who was proud of two autographed balls on exhibition in his home: one signed by Hank Aaron, the other by Willie Mays. One night the Hank Aaron ball was stolen. The Willie Mays ball was left untouched.

When Hank Aaron heard about the episode, he shook his head and said, "All this proves is that there's one crook in this town who doesn't know how to read."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Are there any special exercises that can prevent varicose veins from becoming worse or that can possibly improve the condition?

Mrs. K T., Connecticut Dear Mrs. T.: Exercise in some form can be beneficial to almost everyone. For this reason, doctors encourage patients who have recovered from very severe illnesses and even some who have had a heart attack to exercise within prescribed limits.

One of the great advantages of exercise is that it stimulates the blood circulation. This probably prompts your question, since varicose veins do interfere with the proper return flow of blood from the feet and legs to the heart.

Varicose veins, once established, mean that changes and weakness of the muscular walls of the veins have occurred. These changes are rarely reversible. Sometimes, when an unusual cause for varicose veins is found and removed, there may be improvement. Exercise, however, cannot change the varicose veins studied. It is physical structure of the veins themselves. Proper support stockings and positional exercises are beneficial and may prevent the condition from progressing.

Physicians are aware that patients far too often delay having their experience that when the condition becomes cosmetically unsightly, both men and women are prompted to seek help. Earlier consultation is advantageous.

In one of your columns, "Hopeful News in Medicine," you wrote about a new drug, Dopepin. I know it is an experimental drug, but where can I purchase it? I am severely nervous and depressed and pray that this drug will help me.

Mrs. E. G., Pennsylvania Dear Mrs. G.: In the "Hopeful News in Medicine" columns, I deliberately seek out exciting new and experimental studies. I feel that it brings a great deal of hope to people even though the drugs may not yet be freely available to physicians everywhere. When Dopepin is finally proven to be of value, and when it is found to be free of toxic side effects, it will be added to the long list of the new and remarkable chemicals now being used to treat psychological depression. At that time, all doctors will add it to their list of new remedies and dispense it safely to their patients.

A prominent Soviet physician, Dr. Fedor Uglov, demands Russian drunkards be harshly punished, says heavy boozing hurt the Russkis' economy. Should we change that old song to "Red Sots in the Sunset?"

The Moscow medico also proposes gradual prohibition of liquor sales in the Soviet Union? What's that — creeping sobriety?

By asking merciles punishment of drunkards, Dr. Uglov is apparently revealing he never has suffered a headsplitting hangover.

Goldwater After 10 Years

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
Gordon Reed, a Greenwich, Connecticut, fund-raiser for the Republican Party, put his heart, soul and pocketbook into the 1964 presidential campaign for Barry Goldwater. But he took the Goldwater defeat philosophically. "The first man over the top," he said, "always gets shot down."

Fortunately, though Barry was undeniably gunned down, the wounds did not prove mortal. He lived to come back to the U.S. Senate. He is now having the last word in a book called "The Conscience of a Majority," which follows his prophetic "The Conscience of a Conservative" by ten years. What the liberals call reactionary and even kookie in 1960 and 1961 has, in the formulations of Vice President Spiro Agnew and President Richard Nixon himself, become the common sense of a campaign in which both Republicans and Democrats are trying to ride a huge groundswell in favor of some old verities.

The middle American, one of the "silent majority" whose inchoate feelings Barry Goldwater was the first to put into clarifying words back in 1960, has at least found his voice. Now, far from "polarizing" the country, the middle American is pulling scores of disillusioned liberals toward the center, making for a new consensus that, in the 1970s, should see order restored to our kookie campuses, fiscal sanity to our Federal budget, and a prudent regard for the state of our military preparedness to the many who had hoped unrealistically for a nend to the era of confrontations.

Significantly, Barry Goldwater's new book is published virtually neck-and-neck with John Hersey's "Letter to the Alumni" and a few weeks after Garry Wills' curious attack on Nixon's America, a book called "Nixon Agonistes."

Hersey, a popular author who has doubled for five years as a Yale University residential college master, saw in the student agitation last May Day on behalf of the Black Panthers the making of a continuing schism in American life if the parents among us refuse, in Yale President Kingman Brewster's words, to "rediscover their sons and daughters."

Wills, a former luminary in Bill Buckley's "National Review" gallery of conservative writers, has suddenly discovered all evil in the resurgence of middle America.

I can't fathom the reason for Wills' shift, for he was once our foremost authority on the late Gilbert Chesterton, who believed in the right of the "middle" Englishman or American to be his "own potty little self." Wills has put on new colors with the abruptness of a chameleon. But Hersey's career has always seen him reacting on behalf of what was fashionably intellectual at any given time of writing.

When Bill White of the Emporia Gazette went to Russia with Eric Johnson during World War II and returned to write critically of a society still wracked by Stalinism, Hersey thought I was almost beyond the pale because I had objected in print to the liberal "gang-up on Bill White." It does not occur to Mr. Hersey that maybe it would be better if some of our sons and daughters re-discover their parents, or, if not their parents (who are frequently as far gone in fashionable liberalism as any of "the kids") at least the tradition of the West that has made the free university possible.

Barry Goldwater, who has visited more colleges than Jerry Rubin or Abbie Hoffman, disputes the Hersey view of youth. Barry is convinced that the vast majority of the students on our 2,500 campuses are still part of the warp and woof of American fabric. To be sure, they don't necessarily like the Establishment — but the Establishment, as Barry

Goldwater wickedly points out, has been liberal. Barry thinks most of our present-day delinquencies are the fault of "young adults" who, assuming their first positions of importance in the world, "show a total lack of responsibility equal to their jobs."

One particular group comes to Barry Goldwater's mind: "It is the group of young college university faculty members." In school after school, he says, this group has "too often . . . been found to be the architects and planners of . . . uprisings."

In short, where youth has gone bad, it is because it has been misled. The Barry Goldwater who says this, incidentally, is the leader of the movement to go rid of the compulsory military draft. The young, who hate the draft, can hardly say that it is just an old fogey speaking when Barry attacks their professors.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In a geographically large, industrially diverse nation such as the United States, many of the popularly recognized economic statistics can sometimes mask rather than reveal certain conditions.

The reason: They are figures for the nation as a whole, and seldom reflect the actual conditions existing in any one area of the country. In fact, national averages may be said to reflect conditions at no point in the country.

The unemployment statistics provide a good example. The latest rate of joblessness was 5.5 per cent for the nation as a whole, indicating that as far as job seekers were concerned, there existed a stiff recession.

The truth is, however, that the economies of some areas are enveloped in what looks more like a depression, with unemployment rates more than double the national average.

Relative economic strength in parts of the Southeast, for example, disguises extreme weakness in sections of California and the Pacific Northwest.

Popular usage of the national rates also obscures the fact that in some urban core areas the unemployment rate might be 25 per cent or more, and that the rate of nonwhites is double that of whites.

The popular figure also can not reveal the changes in fate of the various components of the labor force. Engineers, for example, are experiencing wholesale layoffs because of cuts in defense and aerospace budgets.

Many a technically trained worker has but two choices: Sell his home and move his family to another section of the country, or leave his profession for a job paying considerably less.

The unemployment picture, therefore, is generally worse than the national average or better than it. The real picture depends upon who you are, what you do and where you live. Nobody is average and nobody lives in National. There is no such place.

Divisive Game

The capacity TV sports programs have for promoting domestic discord may be one reason Monday night football is apparently not drawing the large audience envisioned by the network masterminds.

Housewives have proved they can live, although reluctantly, with an occasional baseball game stretched over a six-month season, or basketball or hockey or sports specials. But there is something about grown men bent on mayhem for possession of an awkwardly-shaped ball that gets their dander up.

And when a telecast is tagged into Monday night prime time after the male of the species has spent the week-end glued to the set, the easiest solution this side of the divorce court appears to be a twist of the dial.

Filling The Void

Everything that goes up must come down is an adage made obsolete by the space age. There are, at latest count, more than 1,800 pieces of hardware orbiting in space — some functional, most just junk.

Their point of origin reads like a United Nations of Outer Space: The United States, Soviet Union, France, Red China, NATO, West Germany, Canada, Australia, Japan and European Space Research Organization.

Imagine what traffic signs are going to look like when manned space flight really takes place.

According To Boyle

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — For the panderers of New York City, the days of "Can you spare a dime for a cup of coffee?" are long gone.

As in any modern American business, panhandling has come up with a new bag of gimmicks to increase productivity.

A man, wearing a neat business suit and carrying a slick valise, comes up to you in the Port Authority bus terminal near Times Square.

"Hey buddy," he says. "Help me out, huh? Lost my wallet somewhere and haven't got enough change to get home to New Jersey. Need 40 cents."

He is difficult to resist. But despite his well-groomed, commuter look, the man is probably a panhandler.

Another man, observed recently on a Manhattan street corner, has come up with a more elaborate and probably more profitable version of the same game. He held a fistful of cash and stopped passersby saying: "Do me a favor, pal? My car got towed away and I don't have enough cash to get it out of the police garage. All I need is four more bucks and I'll have the $75 for the fine and the towing fee."

Clever, huh? So clever, in fact, that this panhandler and other industrious beggars may take in as much as $200 or more a week by simply asking for spare change.

Panhandlers tend to congregate in areas where they will meet unsuspecting, less hardened out-of-towners. The bus and railroad stations are favorite spots, as are the major tourist attractions.

Music is often used to lure nickels and dimes from people. A man who stations himself daily near St. Patrick's Cathedral plays the violin while people drop change into a hat on the sidewalk. Another fellow plays a trumpet daily near a major department store. He has a dish for change and a sign saying, "Trying to get better."

Passengers getting off buses at the Port Authority often have their bags grabbed by persons who say they'll take them to the nearest taxi stand. Once at the taxi stand, they demand a dollar for their services. Official posters charge 35 cents and no tipping is permitted.

Begging is against the law. In New York it is illegal for persons to loiter for the purpose of begging or soliciting. The maximum penalty is $250. Few beggars, however, are ever arrested. Most citizens don't bother turning in complaints.

State Auditor Candidates Have Long Experience

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Much like his opponent, State Rep. Roger W. Tracy Jr., R-60 Columbus, is following a political tradition into the Republican campaign for state auditor.

Both the candidate's father and grandfather before him served as state auditor.

Tracy, 32, a graduate of Miami University in 1960 and the Ohio State University College of Law in 1963, is a former lecturer in political science at Ohio State.

Tracy, of Columbus, was elected to his first term as a state representative in 1966 following two years with the office of the state auditor as an administrative assistant. He was re-elected to the Ohio House in 1968.

Tracy served as a member of the 1969 Republican State Platform Committee.

He is married to the former Elizabeth Anne Ebel of Tiffin.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With 16 years of service as state auditor from 1936-1952 already behind him, Joseph T. Ferguson finds absence makes the heart grow fonder.

He is the Democratic candidate for state auditor again.

Born in Shawnee, Ohio, 76 years ago, Ferguson began his career in state government as payroll auditor for the State Industrial Commission. He later served as an examiner in the auditor's office and as auditor in the state's Division of Securities before his election as state auditor for the first time in 1936.

Ferguson was also elected state treasurer in 1953 for one term and has served as president of the State Sinking Fund Commission.

He is married to the former Clara Kost of Lancaster. They have three sons and five daughters.

Tuition Cost Rise Noted By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — State universities and colleges offer the best dollar bargain for the college-bound student but even here the cost of a college education has risen 30 per cent in the past five years. And it is going to continue to rise.

These were among conclusions of a joint report of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, representing 275 schools, and the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, representing 113 of the nation's biggest state schools.

The report indicated it is getting tougher and much more expensive to enroll as a nonresident student in the tax-supported institutions.

The median cost at a big state university for a resident student ran $1,376 this year for tuition, board and room. For an out-of-state student it was $2,019.

At the normally smaller regional universities and state colleges, resident students got by for a median $1,215 while the non-residents had to come up with $1,689.

Actually the rise in most student charges was not as dramatic this year as in the past, the two associations said, but they found little encouragement in this.

"The reasons behind the boosts paint a much gloomier picture," the joint report added. "The low-tuition principle, which has enabled more and more young people to obtain a college education, has been guarded by these institutions since their founding," the report said. "The financial realities of the seventies, however, are making this tenet more of a dream than a reality."

The Adult Reading World

There are three trilogies in the complete "Forsyte Saga" by John Galsworthy. New interest in this monumental work has caused the separate books to be made available in easy-to-hold paperbacks. They are now on the shelves of the library. A Columbus educational channel is featuring the series.

"Springtime in Britain" by Edward Way Teale is a charming blend of all the natural history of Britain, told by way of an 11,000 mile journey in spring. Such authorities as John Kieran and Mark van Doren have richly praised it.

"The Queen's Year, the Reality of Monarchy," is by Andrew Duncan. It is witty and at the same time thoughtful, an analysis of Queen Elizabeth and her influence. Included are excellent photographs of the royal family.

"Bury Him Among Kings" by Elleston Trevor is a drama of the great war of 1914-1918, graphically described from the English view. Its title comes from the burial of the "Unknown Warrior," chosen from six caskets whose bodies were unidentifiable. Blindfolded, a high-ranking officer made the selection. This soldier is interred in Westminster Abbey, forever to rest among kings.

"Last Things" could mean memories and experiences over the life - times of various individuals. C. P. Snow, its author, has a unique way of explaining current unrest and trends. Mr. Snow's latest book will appeal to the deep reader and the thinker.

"Travels With My Aunt" by Graham Greene. Red-headed Aunt Agatha has led a many faceted life. Henry, retired bank manager, meets and accompanies her on several trips. Humorous reading, though a bit startling. Three items just above taken from reviews by Nelle Francis.

Graham Greene, like his protagonist in "Travels With My Aunt," is a many faceted man. His books include deep psychological novels, plays, essays and top-notch thrillers. Among them are "A Burnt-Out Case," "The Comedians," "The End of the Affair," and "Our Man in Havana."

Tracy, 32, a graduate of Miami University in 1960 and the Ohio State University College of Law in 1963, is a former lecturer in political science at Ohio State.

Tracy, of Columbus, was elected to his first term as a state representative in 1966 following two years with the office of the state auditor as an administrative assistant. He was re-elected to the Ohio House in 1968.

Tracy served as a member of the 1969 Republican State Platform Committee.

He is married to the former Elizabeth Anne Ebel of Tiffin.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With 16 years of service as state auditor from 1936-1952 already behind him, Joseph T. Ferguson finds absence makes the heart grow fonder.

He is the Democratic candidate for state auditor again.

Born in Shawnee, Ohio, 76 years ago, Ferguson began his career in state government as payroll auditor for the State Industrial Commission. He later served as an examiner in the auditor's office and as auditor in the state's Division of Securities before his election as state auditor for the first time in 1936.

Ferguson was also elected state treasurer in 1958 for one term and has served as president of the State Sinking Fund Commission.

He is married to the former Clara Kost of Lancaster. They have three sons and five daughters.

Tuition Cost Rise Noted By Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — State universities and colleges offer the best dollar bargain for the college-bound student but even here the cost of a college education has risen 30 per cent in the past five years. And it is going to continue to rise.

These were among conclusions of a joint report of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, representing 275 schools, and the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, representing 113 of the nation's biggest state schools.

The report indicated it is getting tougher and much more expensive to enroll as a nonresident student in the tax-supported institutions.

The median cost at a big state university for a resident student ran $1,376 this year for tuition, board and room. For an out-of-state student it was $2,019.

At the normally smaller regional universities and state colleges, resident students got by for a median $1,215 while the non-residents had to come up with $1,689.

Actually the rise in most student charges was not as dramatic this year as in the past, the two associations said, but they found little encouragement in this.

"The reasons behind the boosts paint a much gloomier picture," the joint report added.

"The low-tuition principle, which has enabled more and more young people to obtain a college education, has been guarded by these institutions since their founding," the report said. "The financial realities of the seventies, however, are making this tenet more of a dream than a reality."

The Adult Reading World

There are three trilogies in the complete "Forsythe Saga" by John Galsworthy. New interest in this monumental work has caused the separate books to be made available in easy-to-hold paperbacks. They are now on the shelves of the library. A Columbus educational channel is featuring the series.

"Springtime in Britain" by Edward Way Teale is a charming blend of all the natural history of Britain, told by way of an 11,000 mile journey in spring. Such authorities as John Kieran and Mark van Doren have richly praised it.

"The Queen's Year, the Reality of Monarchy," is by Andrew Duncan. It is witty and at the same time thoughtful, an analysis of Queen Elizabeth and her influence. Included are excellent photographs of the royal family.

"Bury Him Among Kings" by Elleston Trevor is a drama of the great war of 1914-1918, graphically described from the English view. Its title comes from the burial of the "Unknown Warrior," chosen from six caskets whose bodies were unidentifiable. Blindfolded, a high-ranking officer made the selection. This soldier is interred in Westminster Abbey, forever to rest among kings.

"Last Things" could mean memories and experiences over the life - times of various individuals. C. P. Snow, its author, has a unique way of explaining current unrest and trends. Mr. Snow's latest book will appeal to the deep reader and the thinker.

"Travels With My Aunt" by Graham Greene. Red-headed Aunt Agatha has led a many faceted life. Henry, retired bank manager, meets and accompanies her on several trips. Humorous reading, though a bit startling. Three items just above taken from reviews by Nelle Francis.

Graham Greene, like his protagonist in "Travels With My Aunt," is a many faceted man. His books include deep psychological novels, plays, essays and top-notch thrillers. Among them are "A Burnt-Out Case," "The Comedians," "The End of the Affair," and "Our Man in Havana."

HALLOWEEN INVITATION — Invite Halloween callers in for a goodie — a chocolate funny-face cupcake, a piece of creamy homemade fudge or a doughnut along with a cup of steaming hot spiced cider.

BEST TREAT — A homemade oatmeal doughnut flavored with orange rind and nutmeg, coated with sugar is the best treat of all.

Tricks For Treats

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

When the doorbell starts ringing on Saturday, it won't be Avon calling. It will be a never-ending band of moppets on Halloween trick-or-treat rounds. Be ready for them.

Start collecting small change for the UNICEF containers the kids proudly proffer.

Think, too, about treats for the tricksters. You can always resort to packaged candy but if you really want to rate treat them to homemade goodies.

Offer a tray of cupcakes with chocolate frosting and spooky faces fashioned with candy, or let them choose an oatmeal doughnut subtly flavored with orange rind and nutmeg, or a creamy square of fudge. Pass a paper cup of hot spiced cider.

Make Halloween special for the neighborhood kids and you'll make it special for yourself, a holiday to enjoy almost as much as you did when you were trick-or-treat age.

HALLOWEEN FACE CUPCAKES

23 cup quick or old fashioned oats uncooked
34 cup boiling water
13 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
1 egg
1 ounce (1 square) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
Candy
Heat oven to 350 F.
Combine oats and water; cover and let stand 15 minutes.
Beat together butter and sugar until fluffy. Blend in egg, chocolate and oats mixture.
Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add to chocolate mixture; blend well.

Fill greased or paper baking cup-lined muffin cups 2/3 full. Bake in preheated oven 20 to 25 minutes. Cool.
Frost with chocolate confectioners sugar frosting. Make Halloween faces with small gumdrops, candy corn and black string licorice. Makes 12 medium-sized cupcakes.

ORANGE RAISED DOUGHNUTS

1 cake compressed or 1 package dry yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk, scalded
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt

1-3 cup shortening, soft
3 eggs
4 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
½ teaspoon nutmeg
Grated peel of 1 orange
Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast).

Combine milk, sugar, salt and shortening; stir to melt shortening. Cool to lukewarm.

Beat in eggs and 1 cup of the flour. Add softened yeast and 2 minutes on medium speed of mixer (or beat 300 vigorous strokes by hand). Stir in oats, nutmeg, orange peel and remaining flour. (Batter will be thick). Cover and let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour.

Stir dough down. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to ½-inch thickness. Cut with floured 3-inch doughnut cutter; place on cookie sheets. Let rise uncovered in warm place until nearly double in size, about 45 minutes.

Fry in hot deep fat (375 F.) about 2 minutes or until golden brown, turning only once.

Drain on absorbent paper. While warm, shake in paper bag containing a small amount of granulated sugar. Makes about 1½ dozen.

MAPLE-PECAN FUDGE

2 cups sugar
½ cup maple-blended syrup
1-3 cup light cream or half and half
Dash salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped pecans

Butter sides of heavy 2-quart saucepan. In saucepan combine sugar, syrup, cream, salt and butter. Bring to a full rolling boil, stirring constantly so that all sugar is dissolved.

Cook over low heat without stirring to the soft ball stage (238 F.) or until syrup dropped into very cold water forms a soft ball which flattens on removal from water. Remove from heat and cool to lukewarm (110 F.). Do not stir.

Add vanilla and beat vigorously until candy becomes very thick and starts to lose its gloss. Quickly stir in pecans and spread in buttered 8-inch square pan; score in squares. If desired, lightly press a pecan

Sell Eggs By Pound, Knauer Says

CINCINNATI (AP) — Selling eggs by the pound rather than the dozen to promote "the best protein buy" in stores was suggested here Thursday by Mrs. Virginia Knauer, President Nixon's assistant on consumer affairs.

Mrs. Knauer made the proposal at the closing session of the 1970 International Poultry Industry Exposition.

"This is breaking with tradition, of course," Mrs. Knauer said, "and no doubt there are those who consider the idea a bit revolutionary."

"Some believe that the sale of eggs by weight would highlight eggs as clearly the best protein buy in the store and raise consumption."

She said others see problems with changing shopping habits and increasing costs to cover labor involved in weighing eggs.

"Retail stores all over the country are busy experimenting with new ideas like unit pricing at open coding," Mrs. Knauer said.

"So perhaps the idea of selling eggs by the pound has merit. It's worth a try."

Fish Kill Eyed In Great Miami

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Department of Water Pollution Control today continued with water tests in an attempt to determine the cause of a large fish kill in the Great Miami River Thursday.

Earl Richards, engineer in charge of industrial and municipal sewage, said the water level was low and might have been the contributing factor to lack of oxygen in the water.

He also said that pollution might have been the cause. The kill centered in the area near Hamilton.

4 Candidates Toss Hats In Ring For U.S. Senator

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Cincinnati, a victim of the Lyndon Johnson landslide six years ago, is making his second try for the U.S. Senate.

Taft, 53, son of the late Sen. Robert Taft Sr., was first elected to public office in 1955 as a member of the Ohio General Assembly. He was re-elected 4 times and served as majority floor leader, 1962-62.

Taft was elected to the U.S. House from Ohio's 1st District in 1967, serving on the Committee of Foreign Affairs and subcommittees on Europe and on Foreign Economic Affairs.

Taft is chairman of the House Republican Conference Research Committee, and past members of the Republican Rev. eneur Sharing Study Group (1967-68).

From 1951-53 and again from 1955-66, Taft was a partner in the law firm of Taft, Stettinius and Hollister. He received his law degree in 1942 from the Harvard Law School and his B.A. from Yale University in 1939.

Taft served from 1942-46 as a Naval officer on active duty in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and Pacific.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Howard M. Metzbaum, Cleveland millionaire and Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, is in his fifth contest for public office without a defeat.

Metzbaum, 52, defeated former astronaut John Glenn in May's Democratic primary.

After receiving a law degree from Ohio State University law school in 1941, Metzbaum won a seat in the Ohio House in 1942. He was reelected in 1944, then elected and reelected to the Ohio Senate in 1946 and 1948.

Metzbaum is senior partner in the law firm he founded in 1948—Metzbaum, Gaines, Finly and Stern. His work for labor organizations has earned him a reputation as a labor lawyer.

After retiring from the Ohio Senate in 1950, Metzbaum and a partner organized the Airport Parking Co. of America which was sold to International Telephone and Telegraph in 1966.

Metzbaum was campaign director for Sen. Stephen M. Young who defeated then Sen. John M. Bricker in 1958, and again in 1964 when Young was reelected over Robert Taft Jr. Metzbaum's opponent this fall.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard B. Kay, a Cleveland Attorney is the first American Independent Party candidate for the U.S. Senate from Ohio.

Kay 51, has practiced law since 1948 after he received a law degree at Western Reserve University at Cleveland. He holds a bachelors degree in Miami University at Oxford.

Kay is a bachelor and has been active in the Cleveland Bar Associations and the Cleveland Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He served as an officer in the U.S. Navy during World War II and retired from the Navy Reserve in 1963 after 20 years of service. He has held offices in the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John O'Neill, Socialist Labor Party nominee for the U.S. Senate, is one of two SLP candidates on the November ballot by virtue of a federal court order.

O'Neill and Joseph Pirincin, candidate for governor, were ordered on the ballot following U. S. District Court ruling last July that Ohio election laws pertaining to minority party candidates were unconstitutional.

O'Neill, 45, was born in 1925 in Ireland where he finished high school before coming to this country in 1948. He is married, has two children, and is the owner of a nursing home in Cleveland.

O'Neill served as an enlisted man in the British Army for 5 years from 1941 to 1946.

His candidacy and that of Pirincin mark the first time since 1946 that SLP candidates have been on the ballot in Ohio.

Blackmail No Answer To Lost Lover

DEAR ABBY: I went with a married man for 10 years. He said he was married in name only and would leave her. Instead of leaving her, he left ME. Toward the end I had the feeling that he was a louse so I taped some conversations we had. He said a lot of terrible things about his wife and other men. I have it all on tape.

I would like to get even with him by sending each member of his family a copy of these tapes with his voice saying these things. (He is also a grandfather.) He still doesn't know I have him on tape.

Please answer soon as I promise to follow your advice. I feel like a fool for having spent 10 years underground.

A FOOL

DEAR FOOL: Destroy the tapes. If you were to send them to his family, a lot of innocent people would be hurt. Accept your share of the blame for the 10 years you spent underground. Forget the louse and turn over a new leaf.

DEAR ABBY: I have been wanting to write this letter for a long time, so here goes.

I feel so hurt when my husband dances cheek-to-cheek with all the tall girls in our crowd because I am barely 5 foot and he is 6 foot 4, and he can't dance cheek to cheek with me.

SHORTY
DEAR SHORTY: Find a short man in your crowd and dance cheek-to-cheek with HIM. He has the same problem.

DEAR ABBY: I painted a landscape in oils about two years ago. I considered it very good and so did others who saw it. My sister admired it, so I gave it to her for a Christmas present and she very proudly hung it on the wall in her living room.

Well, she and her husband recently bought a new home, and they took this landscape painting of mine and put it down in their bar in the cellar among a lot of cartoons and other junky pictures.

When I went to their home and saw it there I was heartbroken but said nothing.

Can you think of a way I

LBJ Plans To Stay Out Of Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson says her husband has no intention of injecting himself into national politics and won't be "harnessed and bridled into anything demanding a schedule."

"He is concerned for a few personal friends he believes in," but that's the extent of his interest in the current election campaign, Mrs. Johnson said in an interview.

If asked his main occupation nowadays, Mrs. Johnson said, "I am trying to keep my grass green and keep my cattle fat."

"Vastly relieved" that her 783-page book, "A White House Diary," is now published, the former first lady said: "At the head of my docket now is learning to play golf."

Johnson needs a steady partner for the sport which he took up again this summer at Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park near Fredericksburg, Tex.

His own book is progressing well Mrs. Johnson said. But she doesn't expect it to be out until sometime next year because the publishers "probably would give me a play for a number of months."

Thank You...

Residents of Circleville

and

Pickaway County

In the few short months since we opened our Circleville office, in temporary quarters, we have enjoyed your enthusiastic support. We appreciate your support and we'll continue to provide the full range of savings-investment and family financing services to you from our new home at 159 E. Main Street in Circleville.

Our progress since we opened our Circleville office on January 2, 1970, has been as follows:

1. Over $500,000 in savings deposited by your friends and neighbors thus far in 1970.
2. In just 10 months we have loaned $1,562,700.00 in mortgage loans to finance the purchase (or construction) of 70 single family homes and related home financing needs of area residents. The difference in funds between savings received and loans granted has been supplied by our additional resources outside the county.
3. We have invested more than a quarter million dollars in our new office at 159 E. Main Street in Circleville. This physical plant will enable us to grow with the community and continue to provide the full range of family finance services you expect.
4. We have employed local people to manage and operate our office here. Nelson Stevens, Bonnie Hildenbrand and Wanda Kitchen are thoroughly familiar with our business and with many area residents.
5. A local businessman, W. Harold Clifton, has been added to our Board of Directors. His business experience, knowledge of local real estate values, and knowledge of local people have been, and will be very valuable to this office and to our entire association.
6. We now pay 5% per year on FSLIC insured, convenient and flexible passbook savings accounts, with earnings compounded quarterly. Any deposit received by the 10th of any month earns from the first of the month. No one in this area pays a higher rate on regular passbook savings.
7. Other savings-investment programs that we offer are:
 - *(1) 5.25% per year, 6 months maturity, savings certificates. Earnings are paid quarterly. Minimum amount . . . $3,000.
 - *(2) 5.75% per year, 12 months maturity, investment certificates. Earnings are paid quarterly. Minimum amount only $10,000.
 - *(3) 6% per year, 2 years maturity, investment certificates. Earnings are paid quarterly. Minimum amount just $15,000.

*See Us for Complete Details

We pay the highest rates in the area, consistent with safety.

Other services that we offer include: Two Drive-in Windows, Night Depository, Safety Deposit Boxes, Travelers Checks, Christmas Accounts, Savings and Payments by Mail, Personal Money Orders, and plenty of Free Customer Parking in our lot at the rear of our building.

'Miracle' Ear Operation Gives Little Girl Hearing

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Elena Arroyo is happy—very happy—because at last she has ears that stick out like any other 7-year-old girl's.

Elena was born without ears in a remote Otomi Indian village 200 miles northeast of Mexico City.

There weren't even any openings where her ears should have been.

"Several tribesmen told her parents that they should kill her," says Miss Viola Griste, a missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators who has spent 27 years among the Otomis.

"But her mother had been converted to Christianity, and she told them she couldn't do that, that the Lord gave her to them for some purpose. Right then and there, I pledged to help that little girl."

When Elena was old enough last year, Miss Griste took her to Oklahoma City, where an ear surgeon had offered his services.

"When the doctor finished he told me he didn't think he had done her any good," recalls Miss Griste. He was wrong. After a postoperative period, Elena could hear. Miss Griste considers it a miracle.

Elena began to learn to talk, but Otomi girls wear their hair long, pulled back off the ears, and if Elena couldn't do that she wouldn't have much of a future.

Executives of Realistic Industries, an Oakland firm that makes cosmetic restorations, heard about Elena and offered to help.

Money for the trip was raised through the efforts of James Santos, a United Auto Workers member employed at Realistic. A few weeks ago Elena was brought here to be measured for artificial ears.

This week she came back, a sober little girl with her black hair combed straight down, hiding ears that weren't there.

She walked out radiant, her hair pushed back behind her new ears in proper Otomi style. "She was all giggly," said Miss Griste. "Kept looking at the mirrors around her and taking her hair, a strand at a time, placing it behind her ears."

The plastic ears are attached with a special adhesive.

TWO OF KIND

Now there are two "snaggleteeths" in the family. What fun Jerry had trying to duplicate his own toothless grin!

I smiled, remembering his first "jack-o'-lantern" and how he had howled with fright at the eerie smile of the funny-faced vegetable. Jim and I had to work hard to convince him that "jack-o'-lanterns" were fun. Now, just a few years later, the "jack-o'-pumpkin" is one of his special delights.

How easy it is to shape the attitudes of a little child. It seems to Jim and me that Jerry is like a sponge, soaking up thoughts and ideas from the things we do and say. His points of view reflect our own.

That's why we know how important it is for all of us to go to church every Sunday. It was there we learned the love for God that enriches our every day. We want this dominion and joy to become a part of Jerry's life, too.

'Miracle' Ear Operation Gives Little Girl Hearing

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Elena Arroyo is happy—very happy—because at last she has ears that stick out like any other 7-year-old girl's.

Elena was born without ears in a remote Otomi Indian village 200 miles northeast of Mexico City.

There weren't even any openings where her ears should have been.

"Several tribesmen told her parents that they couldn't kill her," says Miss Vola Griste, a missionary of the Wycliffe Bible Translators who has spent 27 years among the Otomis.

"But her mother had been converted to Christianity, and she told them she couldn't do that, that the Lord gave her to them for some purpose. Right then and there, I pledged to help that little girl."

When Elena was old enough last year, Miss Griste took her to Oklahoma City, where an ear surgeon had offered his services.

"When the doctor finished he told me he didn't think he had done her any good," recalls Miss Griste. He was wrong. After a postoperative period, Elena could hear. Miss Griste considers it a miracle.

Elena began to learn to talk, but Otomi girls wear their hair long, pulled back off the ears, and if Elena couldn't do that she wouldn't have much of a future.

Executives of Realistic Industries, an Oakland firm that makes cosmetic restorations, heard about Elena and offered to help.

Money for the trip was raised through the efforts of James Santos, a United Auto Workers member employed at Realistic.

A few weeks ago Elena was brought here to be measured for artificial ears.

This week she came back, a sober little girl with her black hair combed straight down, hiding ears that weren't there.

She walked out radiant, her hair pushed back behind her new ears in proper Otomi style.

"She was all giggly," said Miss Griste. "Kept looking at the mirrors around her and taking her hair, a strand at a time, placing it behind her ears."

The plastic ears are attached with a special adhesive.

TWO OF A KIND

Now there are two "snaggletooths" in the family. What fun Jerry had trying to duplicate his own toothless grin!

I smiled, remembering his first "jack-o'-lantern" and how he had howled with fright at the eerie smile of the funny-faced vegetable. Jim and I had to work hard to convince him that "jack-o'-lanterns" were fun. Now, just a few years later, the "jack-o'-pumpkin" is one of his special delights.

How easy it is to shape the attitudes of a little child. It seems to Jim and me that Jerry is like a sponge, soaking up thoughts and ideas from the things we do and say. His points of view reflect our own.

That's why we know how important it is for all of us to go to church every Sunday. It was there we learned the love for God that enriches our every day. We want this dominion and joy to become a part of Jerry's life, too.

Control Of Ohio Assembly Likely To Stay With GOP

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats stand a chance in the Nov. 3 election of picking up several seats in the Ohio legislature but face tough odds of gaining control.

Republicans now hold a 64-35 margin in the 99-member House and a 21-12 edge in the 33-member Senate. All the House seats will be on the ballot as well as 17 of the Senate seats.

To gain control in the House, Democrats must pick up 15 seats. In the Senate they need five.

Even before the polls showed

Democrat gubernatorial candidate John Gilligan leading his Republican rival, Auditor Roger Cloud, Democrats hoped for at least six new House seats.

Now they believe they can count on 10 and another 12 or 13 if Gilligan should win by a 60 per cent margin.

"If he wins by that margin that's the ball game," said a Democrat spokesman. "We are now almost sure of three Senate seats but a margin like that would be good for at least three more."

Control of the legislature next year is politically important because the party in command will draw new boundaries for congressional districts.

Equally important is control of the governor's office, secretary of state's office and the auditor's office. Those three — plus a member of each party representing the legislature — are on the Reapportionment Board.

The board, using the 1970 census as a guide, reapportions legislative districts that will remain intact for 10 years.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R-4, Perrysburg, admits that Republicans could lose "five or six seats" but doesn't believe they will lose control of the House. He contends there are four or five seats now held by Democrats they could pick up.

Six Republicans won't be back next year regardless of the outcome. One, Don R. Goodard, Bartlett, was defeated in the primary. The others aren't seeking re-election.

Five Democrats will be missing, including Minority Leader John C. McDonald, Newark, who gave up his seat to run unsuccessfully in the primary for attorney general. Four others lost primary elections.

Levies, Bond Issues, Amendments Face Voters

Pickaway County voters at the polls Tuesday will cast ballots on nine proposed levies, three renewal levies, two proposed bond issues, the sale of liquor and zoning.

A rundown of the issues and the districts of the county involved are listed for voter information.

Logan Elm School District — An additional tax of two mills for current operating expenses.

The proposed levy is being submitted to voters for the second time. The issue was defeated in a special election Sept. 1.

—An additional tax of four (4) mills for current operating expenses.

Teays Valley School District — A proposed $2,448,000 bond issue to construct, add to, furnish and equip school buildings and improve school sites.

Both issues were submitted and defeated on the May Primary ballot.

Miami Trace School District — For voters in New Holland Village and parts of Perry Twp. in Pickaway County — A $2,590,000 proposed bond issue to acquire real estate land construct a new building, remodel and improve existing school facilities.

Miami Trace School District — An additional tax levy of 1.3 mills for current expenses. The bond issue was defeated in the May Primary.

Veteran Judge Assured Of Reelection

William Ammer, a political figure in Pickaway County for 18 years, is unopposed in the November election for the office of Common Pleas Judge.

First appointed to the post by Governor O'Neill to fill a vacancy, he became a candidate for the office in 1958 and has successfully retained the judgeship in each succeeding election.

Ammer, a Republican, is a Circleville native and resides at 141 Pleasant St. The office to which he seeks reelection is non-partisan. Term of the office is six years.

9 Speakers On Agenda At Protest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Planners of a statewide rally Saturday say nine speakers will protest American involvement in Southeast Asia and the prosecution of 25 persons accused of causing prison disorders at Kent State University.

But the demonstration will be without the voice of attorney William Kunstler, the celebrated defender of radicals, who turned down an invitation to attend because of a prior commitment.

Bob Weiner of the Student Mobilization Committee said at least 10,000 students from "most Ohio schools" are expected to participate in the demonstration, which will begin with a three-mile walk from the Ohio State University oval at 11:30 a.m. to the statehouse downtown.

The rally, one of 32 planned across the country Saturday, is being organized by the Cleveland Area Peace Action Council (CAPAC).

Speaking from the west steps of the statehouse will be Jerry Gordon, Cleveland attorney and CAPAC leader; James Harris, Socialist Workers Party Senate candidate, and representatives of the women's liberation movement, United Farm Workers, Kent State student senate; Ohio State student government and Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VAW).

The VAW will provide marshals to maintain order, Weiner told newsmen Thursday.

The city has made a march permit available if sponsors want one. Without it, marchers must use sidewalks, follow normal pedestrian regulations and not impede normal traffic, officials said.

Auditor Is Unopposed

Marvine Rhoades, Democrat incumbent Pickaway County Auditor, is unopposed for the post she has held since 1958. She will begin her fourth term in January, 1971.

Mrs. Rhoades is a lifelong resident of Pickaway County. She graduated from Jackson Twp. High School and attended both Bliss and Manns Business Colleges in Columbus.

The term of office to which she will return is for a period of four years.

Home Owners

OXFORD, England (AP) — Some 9.1 million Britons own their homes and the number will increase to more than 10.5 million in the next 10 years, the Building Society Association reported. More than half of Britain's 55 million population lives in owner-occupied homes.

Police Helped By Citizens With Radios

MILWAUKIE, Ore. (AP) — A hundred times in the past six weeks a Milwaukie resident-businessman, housewife, student-has made an emergency radio call to police in what has become a program of hundreds of watching eyes.

It is done with citizen band radios, tuned to emergency channel 9.

The city police dispatcher monitors the calls.

City Manager Paul Helton and Finance Director Walter Janssen promoted the radio watch to augment the city's police force and help check vandalism and other crimes.

Many carry the two-way citizen band radios in their cars. Some women have them in their purses. Youngsters have them on their bicycles.

More than 300 of Milwaukie's 16,000 residents are registered with police and the list is growing steadily.

The basic idea, said Helton, is that if a person sees a flashlight in a darkened school building, he calls the police dispatcher, giving his call number, a code for what he has seen, and the location. That's all. Police then take over.

There is a cardinal rule: "Don't be a hero. Report it but keep moving."

Turner Receives Nearly $12,000

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Sen. Robin T. Turner, Republican candidate for treasurer, announced today he has received $11,854 from 188 contributors in his campaign.

Turner said last week in Springfield he would make available to the public a list of his contributions. He added the list will be available after today in his Senate office for anyone who wishes to examine it.

One of the contributions amounting to $1,000, came from the Republican Finance Committee. The state party organization had disowned Turner last spring because he had received a $7,500 contribution from an officer of Crofters, Inc., the money finding firm connected with the state loan scandal.

Control Of Ohio Assembly Likely To Stay With GOP

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats stand a chance in the Nov. 3 election of picking up several seats in the Ohio legislature but face tough odds of gaining control.

Republicans now hold a 64-35 margin in the 99-member House and a 21-12 edge in the 33-member Senate. All the House seats will be on the ballot as well as 17 of the Senate seats.

To gain control in the House, Democrats must pick up 15 seats. In the Senate they need five.

Levies, Bond Issues, Amendments Face Voters

Pickaway County voters at the polls Tuesday will cast ballots on nine proposed levies, three renewal levies, two proposed bond issues, the sale of liquor and zoning.

A rundown of the issues and the districts of the county involved are listed for voter information.

Logan Elm School District — An additional tax of two mills for current operating expenses.

The proposed levy is being submitted to voters for the second time. The issue was defeated in a special election Sept. 1.

Democrat gubernatorial candidate John Gilligan leading his Republican rival, Auditor Roger Cloud, Democrats hoped for at least six new House seats.

Now they believe they can count on 10 and another 12 or 13 if Gilligan should win by a 60 per cent margin.

"If he wins by that margin that's the ball game," said a Democrat spokesman. "We are now almost sure of three Senate seats but a margin like that would be good for at least three more."

Control of the legislature next year is politically important because the party in command will draw new boundaries for congressional districts.

Handicapped Persons Faithful To Church

By JAMES A. ALTGENS
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Getting to church on time is no longer a problem for members of the 11-year-old Bartimaeus Baptist Temple in Dallas—a specially outfitted bus now picks up and delivers them to Sunday school and church every Sunday.

Bartimaeus Baptist Temple is a church operated solely for the handicapped—persons unable to live a normal life. Some members are blind. Others paralyzed. All are handicapped in some way.

The bus, dedicated on Sunday Sept. 20th, was the goal of the Women's Mission Union—W.M.U.—who started the project in 1967.

An elevator platform lift at the curb side of the bus is used for wheel chair and disabled passengers. Opposite the elevator, three seats have been removed and a railing and clamps have been installed to anchor four wheel chairs comfortably with the passengers in them. For those able to move around, there is additional seating space for 20 adults. A normal front curbside door is provided for those passengers who can negotiate the steps. The aisle inside the bus is wide and the seats are comfortable.

Picking up members by bus starts at 12:30 Sunday afternoon with Pastor Don Whitmore and the driver aboard. Members are picked up from suburban cities of Mesquite and Irving as well as area rest homes, housing projects and individual homes. Bus pickups are timed to coincide with the start of his 3 p.m. church services.

Pastor Whitmore, 51, who suffers from partial paralysis, said special facilities have been made available to his parishioners in the North Dallas Baptist church, providing modern facilities, with central air conditioning and heating.

Whitmore, known as Brother Don, said his members prefer separate facilities and are more at ease in each other's company. "It is not our intent to separate handicapped people from others. However, it is obviously true that we are not physically normal, and a good many of us require special care in our daily living," he said.

"Our church offers physical convenience, opportunities of service and opportunity of soul winning. Back in 1964, we did operate in a separate building, but, even then, in the majority of cases either the man, wife or children who are not handicapped, attended church services along with their mate or parents each Sunday, just like they do today. As you know, my wife is perfectly healthy and normal, and assists me where necessary in running the church. "Today, we are in the Mother Church along with their many church members, but we do continue to have our services in our own sanctuary. The members are free to attend services in the main sanctuary of the church, but facilities are not designed for wheel chairs, crutches and other aide devices as in our own sanctuary."

"In 1964, we had a membership of 40; today, the active Sunday school enrollment is 71," he added.

CHS Students View Nixon's Political Rally

EDITOR'S NOTE —This is two students' views of the activities surrounding President Nixon's recent visit to Columbus. These two boys have recorded their impression of the scene as CHS's representative to the political affair.

By DEAN SMALLWOOD and CHIP MORGAN

Last week, Oct. 20, a great pilgrimage occurred. The place was the state house in Columbus. The time was around noon. The purpose was to see and hear the President and the numerous candidates for statewide offices.

From our vantage point we could view many of the occurrences on the lawn of the state house. To our right on a brick retaining wall stood a swarm of photographers; long hair and short; old and young. People scrambled for better positioning from which to view the President when he finally arrived. The trees on the lawn of the state house were speckled with young people peering through the leaves and branches.

About fifty feet to our left stood a group of several hundred young people. They were a colorful group in their dress and their language. One young man was on the shoulders of a friend. He waved a black flag with a peace symbol emblazoned on it. Through the entire course of the ceremony the young man continued to wave his flag back and forth like clockwork. Even the young ladies put up their fists with the middle finger extended. The smart-aleck ignorant animosity that students engaged in disgusted many of the people that attended the President's speaking engagement.

There is no real indication as to how many people were on the lawn and sidewalks in front of the state house, but President Nixon called at a crowd of a hundred thousand. We estimated that it was at least fifty thousand, and it was mostly a partisan crowd. We observed no outright violence. There were some instances of heated words though. Police protection was on hand for the President's safety, should there have been any serious violence. The state, county, and city police coordinated their operations and appeared to be ready for anything. The two most prominent law officers were the state police man on the roof of the state house directly over the speaker stand. They scanned with binoculars the windows of the buildings across the street. Police strolled the entire perimeter of the state house ground with "walkie-talkies."

The ceremony was adjourned around one o'clock, and the state house lawn was cleared with in about an hour. All that was left was wet matted grass, trampled signs, and a few errant photographers and curiosity seekers.

CHS Organizes First Latin Club

By MARY K. LUCAS

To develop an interest in the classics as well as Roman and Greek civilization is the purpose behind the Latin Club which has been started this year at CHS.

The new club has thirty-five members and holds its meetings once a month. It is a charter member of the Junior Classical League, a national organization composed of 90,000 members. This club is open to all students who maintain a C average or better in Latin.

Winifred Bregle is the local club adviser. Officers are Consul, K. by Penn; Pro-consul, Mary Ann Thornton; Scriba, Debbie Brian; and Quesar, Jane Guenther.

Outside speakers, slides, and films are to be included in the club's programs. The members are now in the process of

Teachers Have Holidays Too

By DORINDA BELLAMY and DEBBIE COATES

Even though the teachers of CHS diligently worked this last summer, they also had quite exciting times.

Mrs. Lois Brobst, a very skilled typing, shorthand and shorthand teacher, spent a great deal of her summer working for Headstart in Ashville. In this program, she taught prekindergarten, underprivileged children. Although this was a very rewarding experience for Mrs. Brobst, she took a little time off for a vacation to Oklahoma, Texas and Indiana for a period of two weeks.

Being a teacher of biology and an advanced science course, William Brooke spent most of his time on a summer job at Sturm and Dillard's keeping records and posing as weigh master. On weekends, Mr. Brooke traveled to Hocking Hills where he purchased a lot. In spare time, he worked and planned for the advancing school year on his new science course.

Terry Cordle worked at DuPont on X-Ray fluorescence and at odd jobs around the house and then traveled to West Virginia and Kentucky on short vacations. He is a very well instructed physics and chemistry teacher.

Kelly Boyer played softball in an adult league and was supervisor for Circleville Youth Baseball program.

Mrs. Mary Alice Greenwood listed her primary activity as taking care of her family. She did, however, enjoy her first real vacation at Myrtle Beach.

Mrs. Velma Eberly took a two week vacation with her family. They went to Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois and South Dakota where they viewed Mount Rushmore and the Bad Lands. She also finished housework not done during the school year.

Dennis Stewart visited in Florida. He also did odd jobs to pass the summer months.

Walter Greuser took graduate courses at Ohio University. Several times he traveled to Cincinnati to see the Reds games.

Walter Sale painted several rooms of his home and spent three to four weeks in Kentucky.

Now back to CHS hard at work, the teachers look forward to the next summer when the rig of the bells are once again tucked away in memories.

Journalism Class Offers Readers News

By JEFF LINN

This year's CHS journalism class, writers of the Red and Black, are a group of intelligent students, dedicated to producing a great page of school news every week.

Little is known about how much planning and hard work goes into a newspaper. Eager young newswriters are constantly running about gathering information that will be concise and interesting.

The goals of this organization are to give the public a basic knowledge of what is happening at CHS and to make a good newspaper.

Walter Owens, Assistant Principal: "Just wonderful!"

Carole Wylie, Spirit Committee Chairman: "I think it's fabulous. The guys worked all summer and they deserve every reward they get. A winning team makes it easier to stir up enthusiasm, too."

Mayor Richard Gerhardt: "They're doing great and I hope they go all the way this year."

Robert Huffer, Attorney: "I think they're doing just fine."

Miss Margaret Bower, English IV teacher: "I'm proud."

Cheri Peters, student: "Fantastic!"

This crucial game is for the SCOL crown. Both teams are going into the game with unblemished league marks. Washington has a strong running and passing game on offense. Their defense is very strong on pass coverage, but they are fairly weak up the middle. Circleville's Tigers are going to have a battle on their hands, but when the dust settles in this jungle the lion will no longer be king.

Miami Trace over Wilmington — The Panthers of Miami Trace will be out to knock the wind out of the Wilmington Hurricanes.

Few Realize Holiday Past

By JEFF GRIFITH

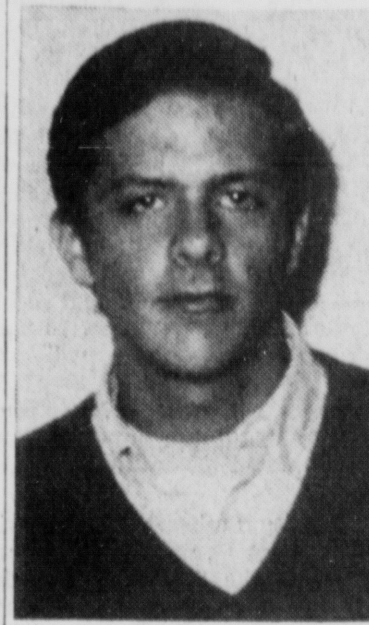

Once again it's time to decorate the windows and doors, finish the costume that will scare the living daylight out of the (supposedly) unsuspecting mother, buy enough candy to last the evening, and expect hordes of children as soon as it's sundown.

This Halloween will have more "kids" roaming the streets than ever before. If any of these "twilight adventurers" were asked why this particular night was celebrated, they would no doubt mutter something containing the word "candy."

Not too many realize that the Druids were the first known to use this night to celebrate the day of Saman. Saman was also known as the Lord of Death who called the spirits of those who had died the past year to visit various houses. The Romans have also influenced Halloween's present form. They held festivals in honor of the goddess of fruit, Pomona, during the occupation of Great Britain. The tradition of bobbing for apples and carving grotesque faces out of pumpkins came from the Roman festivals.

So tonight, instead of worrying about your supply of candy, try to imagine the Celtic ceremonies and Roman festivals — that is, between moments when the words "trick or treat" reverberate through the house.

Californian Brings Active Life To CHS

MIKE LOGAN

By CAROLE WYLIE

"There were bells ringing all the time. You really had to be careful." These were the words of Mike Logan as he recalled his days as a student of Mission San Jose High School.

Mission San Jose offered quite a different school day to Mike than does Circleville High. Modular scheduling, team teaching, resource centers and a greater selection of courses were all part of the campus style school that was built in the beautiful Spanish architecture so typical of California.

While a resident of Fremont, Calif., Mike was very active in school affairs. He was the president of his class and a member of the freshman football team. Moving to Circleville hasn't slowed Mike down, for he is already a member of the Science and Key Clubs, and can be seen wearing jersey number 60 on the CHS football field.

Mike lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Logan, who now reside at 640 Hawthorne Drive. He finds the things people do here different from the activities of a large city. He can't wait to go hunting, fishing and on a hayride. Mike finds Circlevillians sincere and he is sure that he will enjoy living here.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sailors and pilots who navigate today by land-based beacons or stars soon may be setting their courses by artificial stars — man-made satellites.

Marine Office Appleton & Cox Corp. (MOAC), an aircraft and ship insurer, says navigation data relayed to on-board computers by satellites appears to be the most practical way of controlling the world's increasing air and ocean fleets.

MOAC reports that various private firms, as well as the U.S. Navy, have already developed prototype satellite navigation systems capable of fixing a vessel's position to within a few feet.

Teays Valley Bond Issue To Appear On Nov. 3 Ballot

On Nov. 3 the voters in the Teays Valley Local School District will decide the outcome of two vital issues.

One is a bond issue in the amount of $2,448,000.00 for the purpose of constructing an upper elementary school to house grades six, seven, and eight for the total district; and to add a kitchen-cafeteria facility to the present Ashville-Harrison Elementary School. The millage necessary for this

Brooks-Yates Levy Backed By Mental Health

The Pickaway County Mental Health Assn. passed a motion to support the five-tenths mill levy for the operation and maintenance of the Brooks-Yates School and Sheltered Work Shop for the Retarded.

The action came during the regular meeting of the organization held Thursday in the office of Judge Guy Cline.

Officers were elected for 1971. They are: Mrs. Clarence Willoughby, president; Dr. William Myers, vice president; Mrs. John Moss Jr., secretary; Mrs. M. A. Yates, treasurer.

Dec. 13 was set as the date for the members of the Mental Health Assn., their families and friends to meet at Orient to wrap Christmas packages and have dinner in the school cafeteria.

Space Co-Op Plan Inked, Official Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union in a move that could allow either to rescue the others' spacemen, have agreed to standardize future spacecraft, a U.S. official says.

Arnold W. Frutkin, assistant administrator for international affairs at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday the agreement was signed a day earlier in Moscow.

Frutkin said the text will not be made public as a matter of courtesy, until there has been an exchange of letters between M. V. Keldysh, president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences and Dr. George M. Low, acting NASA administrator.

Frutkin, who recently returned from the Moscow conference said Soviet space engineers indicated they plan to design a tunnel exit like that in American spacecraft. The change would allow spacecraft of the two nations to dock in orbit.

He said the agreement will not affect current spacecraft or the American Skylab program, which will follow Apollo in 1972. It is considered likely that the agreement will affect the space shuttles and space station programs each nation has on the drawing boards.

Betty Bolender Crowned State Grange Queen

BETTY JO BOLENDER

For the first time in the history of Pickaway County Granges a young granger will reign as Ohio State Princess. Winning the title over 60 girls from the state was Betty Jo Bolender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender of Route 4.

She was crowned Monday evening at the 98th annual session of the Ohio State Grange held in Akron. She succeeds Joyce Kerns of Fairfield County who served the grange youth during the past year.

By winning the coveted title in the youth program she will represent her county and the state at many grange sponsored activities in the coming year and will represent Ohio at the National Grange Convention to be held in Charleston, West Virginia in 1971.

The 17-year-old senior at Logan Elm High School is an ambitious worker in activities in the school as well as in many county organizations and the Grange.

Betty serves the Grange by working with the county youth organization as vice president, members of the installation and drill teams. Last year she was a member of the Rose Drill team which appeared in Columbus.

This spring she was a local and state winner in the talent contest. She holds an office in Washington Grange and has received six degrees in the order, being a member for eight years.

The new Grange Princess is a majorette in the band, sings in the girls' ensemble, belongs to NHS, and works on the Quill and Scroll. Last year she was an alternate to Girls State.

Other memberships include 4-H clubs, Farm Bureau, 4-H Band and she attends St. Paul United Methodist Church.

In addition to this honor received from the Ohio State Grange, Betty was chosen earlier in the year to be the Ohio Dairy Goat Princess.

The prince for the coming year is Ken Stanley of Geauga County. He is a student at Mount Union College.

RC Volunteers Assigned To Hospital Duty

Twelve area women who have recently completed Red Cross Volunteer training have been assigned to Berger Hospital for volunteer service duty.

They are Mrs. William Stout, Mrs. Larry Stemm, Mrs. C. P. Pfeiffer, Mrs. C. J. Martin, Mrs. Richard L. Davis, Mrs. Glenn Follis, Mrs. Robert Schneider and Mrs. Marcus Lackey, all of Circleville;

Mrs. William Robertson and Mrs. Allen Trax of Route 4; Mrs. David Drum, Route 2, Ashville; and Mrs. Byron LeMay of Route 3.

The volunteers received Red Cross training from Mrs. Roloff Wolford, local Red Cross chapter executive secretary. On-the-floor hospital instruction was given by Mrs. John Saunders, RN of the Berger Hospital staff.

The program received support and cooperation from the hospital staff and officials. The additional volunteer services covering more positions at Berger will provide more extensive service to the community through the hospital facilities.

Cloud Gets Last - Minute Money

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Auditor Roger Cloud has come up with some last minute Republican money in his campaign for governor.

His aides, credit John W. Bricker, former U.S. Senator and governor, for the development, but his finance chief is Rep. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens, an opponent in the May primary.

Bricker sent out two letters soliciting funds. The first, a Cloud aide said, brought in about $50,000. Money is still coming in from the second request.

For the first time in almost anybody's memory, the Republican organization finds itself strapped for funds. It gave Cloud only $22,000.

Cloud received $20,000 in contributions Wednesday. The money is being used primarily for final television, radio and newspaper advertising.

James Duerk, a Cloud campaign assistant, said the early financial setback had some advantages. He said he thinks the Cloud commercials are more timely than those of John J. Gilligan, his Democratic opponent.

Heavy Rain Hits Parts Of Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Heavy rain swamped parts of the Southeast today and triggered flash flooding in scattered areas from Western North Carolina to central Georgia.

More than 5 inches of rain poured into Macon, Ga., late Thursday and early today—over half the amount coming down in one hour. Nearly 4 inches drenched some North Carolina communities.

The downpours came out of a belt of showers and thunderstorms ranging from the south Atlantic States to the eastern Great Lakes.

A storm system stalled over the eastern Dakotas produced intermittent cold light rain sometimes mixed with snow, from eastern Montana to Iowa and Minnesota.

Clear and chilly weather clung to New England, ahead of the Eastern rain belt. Fair and generally pleasant conditions were the rule in most of the country from the Pacific into the Rockies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 22 at Butte, Mont., to 78 at Key West Fla.

Outgoing Gov. James A. Rhodes holds the record for an election victory. He ran up 703,223 votes over Democrat Frazier Reams Jr. in 1966.

Cloud, incidentally, doesn't like the strict schedules his campaign managers set up.

In Sandusky the other day he suddenly announced, "We're going back to Columbus." He did, despite the fact that several other appearances—including television interviews—were on the agenda.

At one point during a whirlwind tour, he ran as much as two-and-one half hours late. He does not utilize fulltime advance men to check the route and set up timetables.

Gilligan, on the other hand, does. He is seldom more than 10-15 minutes late and his advance men hurry him out the door if he spends too long at an appearance.

In the Senate race, Republican Robert Taft Jr. campaigned with Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., in Cleveland today prior to his City Club debate with Democrat Howard Metzenbaum and American Independent Party candidate Richard Key.

Metzenbaum took a spell from the campaign to prepare for the debate.

Taft, in remarks released by his Columbus headquarters, warned of the "growing crisis in welfare" and said it is time for the Senate to break the logjam on President Nixon's welfare reform plan.

"In the long run, the President's plan will get people off welfare onto payrolls, will prevent others from becoming dole cases and may save the taxpayers money," the Cincinnati congressman said.

Political sidelights:

State Sen. Robin Turner, Republican candidate for treasurer, said today he has received 188 campaign contributions totaling $11,854. He said a list of the contributions would be available later today in his Columbus office for anyone to examine.

The contributions include $1,000 from the state GOP organization, which last spring disowned Turner for accepting a $7,500 primary campaign gift from an officer of the money-finding firm involved in the state loan scandal.

John D. Herbert, Republican candidate for attorney general, announced he had received the endorsement of the Portsmouth Times.

Republican auditor candidate Roger W. Tracy Jr. said he had been endorsed unanimously "by most of Ohio's major newspapers."

John Herbert, Bill Brown Run For Attorney General

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Republican candidate for attorney general of Ohio is the state's current treasurer, John D. Herbert of Columbus.

Herbert, 40, and son of former governor Thomas J. Herbert, was first elected to public office as state treasurer in 1962 and was re-elected in 1966. In 1960 Herbert made an unsuccessful bid for the Ohio House of Representatives.

Herbert is a graduate of Princeton University and the University of Michigan Law School. From graduation in 1955 to 1959, he served as an assistant attorney general in the Claims, Highways and Taxation Division.

Herbert's military experience includes service with the 37th Division of the Ohio National Guard.

He is married and the father of five children.

Bill Brown, the democratic candidate for attorney general, was born in Youngstown.

He graduated from Duquesne University and the Ohio Northern University College of Law and holds an honorable discharge for service in the second Army. He now practices law as a partner in the firm of Riddle, Riddle and Brown at Lisbon, Columbiana County.

Brown was something of a "surprise" in winning the Democratic primary on a low budget campaign.

Departmental offices will remain open, although employees will be allowed sufficient time off to vote, he said.

Teays Valley Bond Issue To Appear On Nov. 3 Ballot

On Nov. 3 the voters in the Teays Valley Local School District will decide the outcome of two vital issues.

One is a bond issue in the amount of $2,448,000.00 for the purpose of constructing an upper elementary school to house grades six, seven, and eight for the total district; and to add a kitchen-cafeteria facility to the present Ashville-Harrison Elementary School. The millage necessary for this bond issue has been set at 4.6 mills.

The 4.6 mill bond issue, if successful, would provide the needed relief to the severe overcrowding which presently exists in all the elementary schools in the district. Good school buildings are an important part of a good education. With the student population increasing rapidly, new facilities must be added if those students are to receive the benefits of an educational program they deserve.

No citizen is anxious to pay any more tax than he has to pay; but, the only available avenue of financial support for new school buildings is the local tax. It boils down to a clear choice: a matter of principle. The citizens and parents of the community have before them the option of saying "no" to additional taxes which would provide the new facilities, and by so doing, prolong the solution at the apparent expense of the youngsters — or, the option of saying "yes" and by so doing, extend the opportunity of the youth in their quest for that education which their community has made possible.

Teays Valley school district is growing rapidly, and it will continue to grow. Further delays in meeting the obligation of housing the student population will only lead to undesirable and make-shift solutions; and, in the long run, will cost more money," officials said.

They add that "We, as the present adult community, must make the choice for our children." The quality of their educational future rests with our vision of their needs!

Officers were elected for 1971. They are: Mrs. Clarence Willoughby, president; Dr. William Myers, vice president; Mrs. John Moss Jr., secretary; Mrs. M. A. Yates, treasurer.

Dec. 13 was set as the date for the members of the Mental Health Assn., their families and friends to meet at Orient to wrap Christmas packages and have dinner in the school cafeteria.

Bomb Hoax Hits Columbus Center

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bomb hoax caused evacuation of 1,900 persons from the 25-story Columbus Center Thursday.

A search of the building by firemen and the police bomb squad turned up nothing.

The threat was received at a bank switchboard about 40 minutes before the caller said the bomb was set to go off. Bethel Crouch, building superintendent, said the building was emptied in less than 20 minutes.

Spung, last Sunday evening.

The meeting was opened with prayer, and business meeting was conducted by the president, James Daft.

The election was held, and new officers are: Roger Clarke, president, Lennie Hardman, vice president, Janice Hardman, secretary and Keith Poling, treasurer.

The class planned to go calling on Thursday evening, to invite folks to the revival, beginning on Sunday evening, Nov. 1st. The group agreed to purchase a manger scene, to be used outside the church at the Christmas season.

Refreshments were served by the Spungs to members and guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Poling will be hosts at the next meeting, when the class will prepare gift boxes to send to boys of the church who are in the service.

The Truth Seeker's Class of the Methodist Church met in the church social room on Monday evening.

After group singing, the Rev. Donald Cummins read scripture and led in prayer. The business meeting was conducted by the vice president, Delbert Ash. The class plans to have a bowling party, in Chillicothe, in November.

Refreshments were served by the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller, to the following guests, the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Cummins and Naomi and Alicia, Mr. and Mrs. Ray McJunkin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spung, Mrs. John Cox and Mrs. Joe Jenkins.

The McJunkins will be hosts at the next meeting, to be Nov. 23rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spung and Jane were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bruck, Columbus.

Jerry Spangler called the home folks on Sunday from Owensboro, Ky. He said he had dinner with Joe Goeller II, the previous Monday in Terre Haute, Ind.

The MYF of the Methodist Church enjoyed a Halloween Party at the church on Sunday evening.

The judges, who were Mrs. Don Cummins, Mrs. Forrest Kiser and Mrs. Pete Whitesed, awarded prizes to the following: prettiest, Alicia Cummins; most original, Marsha Hawks; funniest, Rev. Don Cummins; ugliest, Denise Turvey.

The Rev. Cummins was in charge of devotions. The group plans to sell Christmas candles, and three new members, Linda Carroll, Rita Karshner and Melanie Whitesed, were welcomed into the fellowship.

Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served to the following: Naomi and Alicia Cummins, Toby Davis, Joyce Fogler, Vicki Hunt, Debbie Kiser, Dennis and Ricky Kiser, Mark and Marsha Hawks, Matt, Mitch and Porta Joe Martin, Ray Gene and Mark McJunkin, Debbie, Ted and Terry Penwell, Ann Spung, Denise and Scott Turvey, Linda Carroll, Rita Karshner, Melanie Whitesed, Pam Kiser, Mrs. Cummins, Mrs. Kiser and Mrs. Whitesed.

Special evangelistic services begin at the United Methodist Church 7:30 p.m. Nov. 1. The Rev. Don Markaris, of the Ringgold Methodist Church, will be the evangelist and the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Ragland will be bringing special music. Everyone is invited.

Ohio Demos See Chance To Pick Up U.S. House Seats

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio will be assured of four new faces in its 24-member congressional delegation next year and Democrats who hold only six of the seats, hope there will be more.

New faces will fill seats from the 1st, 19th 20th and 24th districts regardless of the outcome at the poll Tuesday.

Republican William J. Keating, 42, and Democrat Bailey W. Turner, 37, are seeking the 1st District seat vacated by Rep. Robert Taft Jr. the GOP Senate nominee.

In the 19th, State Sen. Charles J. Carney, 56, minority leader of the Ohio Senate meets Republican Margaret Dennison in a special election as well as the general election to replace the late Michael Kirwan.

The winner can take office as soon as the official canvass is complete to fill out Kirwan's unexpired term. The winner will also be elected to the full two-year term.

In the 20th Democrat James V. Stanton, 38, who defeated veteran Rep. Michael A. Feigan in the primary faces Republican J. William Petro, 30, a lawyer and former assistant attorney general.

In the 24th Democrat James D. Rupper, 34, faces Republican State Sen. Walter E. Powell for the seat given up by Donald E. "Buz" Lukens an unsuccessful GOP primary candidate for governor.

Democrats hope to pick up Lukens' old seat plus two others now held by Republicans. They believe they have a chance to knock out William H. Ayers in the 14th District and William E. Minshall in the 23rd.

Ayers is being opposed by John E. Seiberling, a member of the Akron rubber family. Minshall's opposition is State Sen. Ronald M. Mottl.

In addition, Democrats believe they can defeat Frank Bow in the 16th if there is a Democratic landslide. They also think they have an outside chance in such an event of defeating Chalmers P. Wylie in the 15th and Samuel L. Devine in the 12th.

Republicans admit they may be in trouble in one area but think they can possibly defeat Carney in the 19th and oust incumbent Democrats in the 9th and 22nd.

In the 9th, Allen H. Shapiro, 25, a law professor at Toledo University is pitted against incumbent Thomas L. Ashley 46, a lawyer.

In the 22nd, Adrian B. Fink 47, is up against incumbent Charles A. Vanik. Both are lawyers. Vanik is completing his first term after succeeding veteran Rep. Frances P. Bolton.

Republicans concede they may be in trouble in Ayers' 14th District. But a source said, Ayers has "always been in trouble but manages to win" in the Akron area.

Following is a complete list of candidates for Congress by Districts listing Republicans first, Democrats second and American Independent Party candidates, where they have filed as third.

1. William J. Keating and Bailey W. Turner both of Cincinnati.

2. Donald D. Clancy and Gerald N. Springer, both of Cincinnati.

3. Charles W. Whalen Jr., Dempsey A. Kerr and Russell G. Butcke all of Dayton.

4. William M. McCulloch, Pi-qua, and Donald B. Laws, Sidney.

Donahey, Turner Vie For Treasurer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats chose Gertrude W. Donahey as their candidate for the office of state treasurer.

Mrs. Donahey, the widow of Ohio's lieutenant governor from 1959-1963, John W. Donahey, and daughter-in-law of former Gov. Vic Donahey, is seeking her first elected office.

But political experience is not confined to elective office. The 61-year-old Mrs. Donahey has served as a state Democratic Central Committeewoman and an Ohio representative to the Democratic National Platform and Resolutions Committee in 1968. She also served as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1964 and 1968.

Mrs. Donahey is presently the Ohio executive assistant to U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio.

Mrs. Donahey, a native of Goshen in Tuscarawas County, is a graduate of Ohio Business College and has one son, John Jr., and three grandchildren.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Republican candidate for state treasurer is State Sen. Robin T. Turner, R-14, Marion.

Turner, 39, has served in both houses of the Ohio General Assembly. He was first elected to the House in 1960 for one term, then to the Senate in 1962. Turner will complete his second consecutive Senate term this year.

Following high school graduation in 1949, Turner enlisted in the U.S. Navy and spent 42 months aboard a naval destroyer during the Korean conflict.

Upon his discharge from military service, Turner enrolled at Bowling Green State University and graduated in 1958.

Turner, married and the father of two daughters, is in public relations work for a Cleveland coal concern.

5. Delbert Latta, Bowling Green and Carl G. Sherer, Fremont.

6. William H. Harsha, Portsmouth and Raymond H. Stevens, Cincinnati.

7. Clarence J. Brown, Urbana, and Joseph D. Lewis, Wilberforce.

8. Jackson E. Betts, Findlay.

9. Allen H. Shapiro, Toledo, and Thomas L. Ashley Waterville.

10. Clarence E. Miller Lancaster, and Doug Arnett, Athens.

11. J. William Stanton, Painesville and Ralph Rudd, Willoughby.

12. Samuel L. Devine, Columbus and James W. Goodrich, Columbus.

13. Charles A. Mosher Oberlin and Joseph J. Bartolomeo, Hinekey.

14. William H. Ayres, and John F. Seiberling Jr., both of Akron.

15. Chalmers P. Wylie, Worthington and Manley L. McGee, Columbus.

16. Frank T. Bow, Canton and Virgil L. Musser, Massillon.

17. John M. Ashbrook, Johnstown; James C. Hood, Granville and Clifford J. Simpson, Mount Vernon.

18. Robert Stewart, Jewett; Wayne L. Hays, Flushing.

19. Margaret Dennison, Warren and Charles J. Carney, Youngstown.

20. J. William Petro, Brookland, and James V. Stanton, Cleveland.

21. Bill Mack, Cleveland and Lou Stokes, Shaker Heights.

22. Adrian Fink, Gates Mills and Charles A. Banik, Euclid.

23. William E. Minshall, Lakewood, and Ronald M. Mottl, Parma.

24. Walter E. Powell, Fairfield James D. Rupper, Franklin and Joseph F. Payton, Clayton.

Stanford Faces Oregon In Top West Coast Clash

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"With this game on Halloween and the Gret Pumpkin coming down," John Ralston was saying, "we've got to be scared to death."

Stanford's head football coach was smiling as he looked ahead to Saturday's encounter with Oregon State and its colorful, round coach, Dee Andros—but then, stranger things have happened on the way to the Rose Bowl.

Like three years ago when bowl-bound Southern California ran into OSU and wound up with its only setback, a 3-0 stunner by Dee's Beavers.

Nevertheless, this looks like Stanford's year and, despite a threat by Oregon's 16th-ranked Ducks, it appears quarterback Jim Plunkett and his Nov. 6 Indians will stay on the warpath toward the Pacific Conference title and Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Stanford's Rose Bowl opposition—if the Indians do all the way—will be all but decided as well Saturday. Second-ranked Ohio State collides with No. 20 Northwestern in the battle to determine Big Ten supremacy.

Both are undefeated in conference competition—as is fifth-rated Michigan, ineligible for the bowl since it played in last New Year's Day's classic.

"It's the biggest game since I've been head coach," says Northwestern's Alex Agase, who's had the job since 1964. "Nobody beats me or my players until they prove it on the field." Ohio State's Buckeyes are likely to do just that.

In other action involving The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams, top-ranked Texas hosts Southern Methodist, No. 3 Notre Dame visits Navy, Nebraska is at Colorado in a regionally televised game which most of the country will see, and Michigan heads for Wisconsin.

The seventh-ranked Air Force Falcons play at Arizona, No. 8 Arkansas is at Texas A&M, ninth-ranked Tennessee hosts Wake Forest at Memphis and Louisiana State, No. 10, is idle as are 11th-ranked Arizona State and No. 13 Mississippi.

Auburn, No. 12, is at Florida, No. 14 San Diego State plays a night game against Fresno State, No. 15 Pitt is at Syracuse, Oregon is at Washington, No. 17 Missouri is at Kansas State, California is at No. 18 Southern Cal in another regionally televised affair and UCLA No. 16, hosts Washington State tonight.

Little Tigers Nipped By C.H., 16-14

Failure to convert after their second touchdown cost the Circleville freshmen a hard fought ball game as they were edged by Washington C. H. frosh, 16-14, in a contest played at C. H. Thursday.

The little Lions scored in the first period on a 70-yard run from scrimmage and added their second touchdown in the second quarter on a 30-yard pass play. Both conversions were good and were the difference in the game.

Circleville got on the scoreboard in the second stanza when Chris Payne turned right end, picked up blockers and raced 60 yards to paydirt. John Ankrom carried over for the extra points.

In the third period Wade Camp blasted up the middle and went 60 yards for the Tigers' final touchdown. The conversion attempt failed and the final score stood 16-14.

"OUR boys gave a good overall performance," Tiger Coach John Glanton commented, "and with a break or two we could have come out on top."

The freshmen are now 4-1-1 for the season and are attempting to schedule another game before the season ends.

Junior ABC Unit Sought For Circleville

On Nov. 8 a meeting will be held at Prairie Lanes, to organize an American Junior Bowling Congress chapter in Circleville.

Time of the meeting will be 2 p.m. All parents, teachers, civic clubs and any interested person are welcome to attend. The purpose of a local association is to provide an organization of individuals interested in the growth of junior bowling.

Objectives of this organization is to unite into a local AJBC group all qualified junior bowlers in the city and area to be served by the association, and to provide a channel for AJBC services and aid in the promotion of the national program for AJBC, to familiarize local instructors, coaches, sponsors and other bowling leaders with the benefits of the AJBC, to educate youth in the value of sportsmanship and good citizenship.

Detroit Red Wings Stop Bruins, 5-3

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings led by two old smoothies, polished off the Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins 5-3 Thursday night in a National Hockey League game.

Detroit's Alex Delvecchio put in his 400th and 401st NHL goals in a career that is now in its 20th season. Aiding Delvecchio's effort was another NHL veteran, Gordie Howe, who pasted up his 100th regular season assist on the second Delvecchio tally.

The slow starting Wings have a 3-6-1 record this season but no one would have known that Thursday night as the Wings outshot Boston 43-35 in breaking a four game winless streak.

Utah Stars Defeat N.Y. Nets, 114-105

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The Utah Stars outbounded the New York Nets 66-51 for a 114-105 victory in the only American Basketball Association game Thursday night.

Predictions: Vikings Over Lions

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League season reaches its midway mark this week with several critical games scheduled, including a NFC Central struggle for supremacy between Minnesota and Detroit that is enough to shake any selector.

This one is no different, and if the Vikings-Lions match-up doesn't do it, there's always Oakland-Kansas City or Green Bay-San Francisco two other games that have a distinct bearing on conference races.

But pick we must. So here goes:

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Minnesota 24, Detroit 14—The Vikings have allowed only 39 points, including key victory over Rams last week, and Gary Cuozzo directs a precision ball-control offense. Lions hurt by losing defensive end Joe Robb.

Oakland 34, Kansas City 21—Maybe the Chiefs left their play book at the Super Bowl. But they haven't been the same since. Both teams chasing Denver in AFC West, but it'll be Raiders who catch Broncos now that Dan Conners is back at middle linebacker.

Green Bay 28, San Francisco 27—Packers, waiting for either Vikings or Lions to falter, upset Western NFC leaders on passing of Bart Starr and running of

Donny Anderson, who seems finally to be enjoying himself as a pro.
Cleveland 35, San Diego 31—The Chargers can score but they give up more than they put on the board. Browns surprised defensively with shutout of Miami and Bill Nelsen now is No. 2 among AFC passers.

St. Louis 31, Houston 17—Stunned by Giants last week, Cardinals must right themselves, and should be able to do so with MacArthur Lane and Co. ridding crippled Oilers.

Baltimore 28, Miami 24—Don Shula, former Colt coach, will throw everything at Baltimore but it's Bob Griese who really has to connect. Bubba Smith making Colts' Front Four mayhem-bent outfit.

Dallas 30, Philadelphia 10—The Eagles are overwhelming choice to win the sweepstakes for the No. 1 draft choice, but that's about all they're expected to win. Cowboys' defense playing tough.

Los Angeles 24, New Orleans 21—A day for Rams to be down following loss to Minnesota, but they'll have trouble losing to weak Saints. Besides quarterback Roman Garbriel is a bounce-back guy.

Denver 31, Washington 20—Interesting battle between rushing leaders, AFC's Floyd Little for Broncos and NFC's Larry Brown for Redskins. Denver defense tougher, Little gets more yardage, Broncos win.

New York Jets 24, New York Giants 14—They've been arguing this one since AFL was born 11 years ago. With Giants' Fran Tarkenton hot and Joe Namath out of Jets' lineup there's virtually no reason to argue anymore.

Boston 28, Buffalo 21—Joe Kapp, who has been mauled ever since he joined the Patriots engineers his first victory. Despite victory over Jets' Buffalo offense lacks cohesion.

Atlanta 17, Chicago 10—The Bears gave Detroit a tussle and Dick Gordon is catching passes at a fast clip, but the Falcons get a bit stronger every week.

OSU Faces Northwestern In Battle For Bowl Berth

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maury Daigneau has ground support for his Northwestern passing bombs this time, and it's making Woody Hayes, the Ohio State football general, squirmish.

The Wildcats, the surprise of the Big Ten race with a well-rounded attack, match 3-0 records with Ohio State Saturday. The victor will become the leading Rose Bowl contender from the conference.

Daigneau passed last year for school records of 22 completions and 294 yards against the second-ranked Buckeyes. However, the Northwestern rushers wound up with a minus 29 yards, and Ohio State was a 35-6 winner.

The Wildcats have rushed for 1,140 yards and passed for 873 more in a 3-3 season to 5-0 for second-ranked Ohio State.

More important, they have become a ball control team and added the league's leading total defense. That bothers Hayes.

Northwestern looked so good on the films the Ohio State mentor had of them this season that he asked Notre Dame Coach

Ara Parseghian for movies of the Irish' 35-14 triumph over the Wildcats.

"The films show them to be an exceptionally fine football team. It's a shame they dropped those close games outside the league. It would be a truer indication of their ability," Hays said.

The Wildcats, after the opener against Notre Dame, were nudged by UCLA 12-7 and SMU 21-20 before taking apart Illinois 48-0, Wisconsin 24-14 and Purdue 38-14 in the conference.

Ohio State, a prohibitive favorite Saturday before an Ohio Stadium crowd of 86,000 defeated Illinois 48-29 last week after beating Michigan State 29-0 and Minnesota 28-8 in the Big Ten.

Mike Adamle rushed for just 30 yards in 13 carries against Ohio State last fall. This season the 190-pound Wildcat fullback lead the conference with 441 yards, 52 ahead of Ohio State fullback John Brockington and Michigan's Billy Taylor.

Northwestern, never rich in depth, has avoided crippling injuries. Ohio State also will be in its best physical shape of the season for the milseason showdown.

Crime Drug Abuse Campus Unrest Consumer Fraud

"Time is running out!"
OHIO NEEDS
John D. Herbert

CRIME —
Organized crime can only be fought by organized statewide law enforcement agencies. John D. Herbert proposes that the Bureau of Criminal Identification be expanded with top caliber personnel to coordinate the all-out attack on organized crime in Ohio in cooperation with all local enforcement agencies.

DRUG ABUSE —
Only when drug abuse is reduced can we lower the increasing crime rate caused in part by the cravings of addicts. John D. Herbert proposes to expand the narcotics bureau in the Attorney General's Office to attack drug abuse on three fronts: the source, the pushers and the users. The youth of our State must be protected.

CAMPUS UNREST —
Campus unrest, violence and destruction of property must not be tolerated. As Attorney General, John D. Herbert will gather evidence on those persons going from campus to campus for the express purpose of disrupting our institutions of higher learning. They must be prosecuted. Herbert will also advise the universities as to their legal responsibilities and duties in prosecuting those cited for leading or participating in violent or disruptive campus incidents.

CONSUMER FRAUD —
Ohioans are cheated of an estimated $300 million annually through various frauds. John D. Herbert proposes to intensify efforts to expose and prosecute those engaged in fraudulent and deceptive practices against the citizens of Ohio.

Stanford Faces Oregon In Top West Coast Clash

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"With this game on Halloween and the Gret Pumpkin coming down," John Ralston was saying, "we've got to be scared to death."

Stanford's head football coach was smiling as he looked ahead to Saturday's encounter with Oregon State and its colorful, rotund coach, Dee Andros—but then, stranger things have happened on the way to the Rose Bowl.

Like three years ago when bowl-bound Southern California ran into OSU and wound up with its only setback, a 3-0 stunner by Dee's Beavers.

Nevertheless, this looks like Stanford's year and, despite a threat by Oregon's 16th-ranked Ducks, it appears quarterback Jim Plunkett and his Nov. 6 Indians will stay on the warpath toward the Pacific-8 Conference title and Pasadena on New Year's Day.

Stanford's Rose Bowl opposition—if the Indians do go all the way—will be all but decided as well Saturday. Second-ranked Ohio State collides with No. 20 Northwestern in the battle to determine Big Ten supremacy.

Both are undefeated in conference competition—as is fifth-rated Michigan, ineligible for the bowl since it played in last New Year's Day's classic.

"It's the biggest game since I've been head coach," says Northwestern's Alex Agase, who's had the job since 1964. "Nobody beats me or my players until they prove it on the field." Ohio State's Buckeyes are likely to do just that.

In other action involving The Associated Press' Top Twenty teams, top-ranked Texas hosts Southern Methodist, No. 3 Notre Dame visits Navy, Nebraska is at Colorado in a regionally televised game which most of the country will see, and Michigan heads for Wisconsin.

The seventh-ranked Air Force Falcons play at Arizona, No. 8 Arkansas is at Texas A&M, ninth-ranked Tennessee hosts Wake Forest at Memphis and Louisiana State, No. 10, is idle as are 11th-ranked Arizona State and No. 13 Mississippi.

Auburn, No. 12, is at Florida, No. 14 San Diego State plays a night game against Fresno State, No. 15 Pitt is at Syracuse, Oregon is at Washington, No. 17 Missouri is at Kansas State, California is at No. 18 Southern Cal in another regionally televised affair and UCLA No. 16, hosts Washington State tonight.

Little Tigers Nipped By C.H., 16-14

Failure to convert after their second touchdown cost the Circleville freshmen a hard fought ball game as they were edged by Washington C. H. frosh, 16-14, in a contest played at C. H. Thursday.

The little Lions scored in the first period on a 70-yard run from scrimmage and added their second touchdown in the second quarter on a 30-yard pass play. Both conversions were good and were the difference in the game.

Circleville got on the scoreboard in the second stanza when Chris Payne turned right end, picked up blockers and raced 60 yards to paydirt. John Ankrom carried over for the extra points.

In the third period Wade Camp blasted up the middle and went 60 yards for the Tigers' final touchdown. The conversion attempt failed and the final score stood 16-14.

"OUR boys gave a good overall performance," Tiger Coach John Glanton commented, "and with a break or two we could have come out on top."

The freshmen are now 4-1-1 for the season and are attempting to schedule another game before the season ends.

Predictions: Vikings Over Lions

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League season reaches its midway mark this week with several critical games scheduled, including a NFC Central struggle for supremacy between Minnesota and Detroit that is enough to shake any selector.

This one is no different, and if the Vikings-Lions match-up doesn't do it, there's always Oakland-Kansas City or Green Bay-San Francisco two other games that have a distinct bearing on conference races.

But pick we must. So here goes:

SUNDAY'S GAMES
Minnesota 24, Detroit 14—The Vikings have allowed only 39 points, including key victory over Rams last week, and Gary Cozzo directs a precision ball-control offense. Lions hurt by losing defensive end Joe Robb.

Oakland 34, Kansas City 21—Maybe the Chiefs left their play book at the Super Bowl. But they haven't been the same since. Both teams chasing Denver in AFC West, but it'll be Raiders who catch Broncos now that Dan Conners is back at middle linebacker.

Green Bay 28, San Francisco 27—Packers, waiting for either Vikings or Lions to falter, upset Western NFC leaders on passing of Bart Starr and running of

Donny Anderson, who seems finally to be enjoying himself as a pro.

Cleveland 35, San Diego 31—The Chargers can score but they give up more than they put on the board, Browns surprised defensively with shutout of Miami and Bill Nelsen now is No. 2 among AFC passers.

St. Louis 31, Houston 17—Stunned by Giants last week, Cardinals must right themselves, and should be able to do so with MacArthur Lane and Co. riddling crippled Oilers.

Baltimore 28, Miami 24—Don Shula, former Colt coach, will throw everything at Baltimore but it's Bob Griese who really has to connect. Bubba Smith making Colts' Front Four mayhem-bent outfit.

Dallas 30, Philadelphia 10—The Eagles are overhyped choice to win the sweepstakes for the No. 1 draft choice, but that's about all they're expected to win. Cowboys' defense playing tough.

Los Angeles 21, New Orleans 21—A day for Rams to be down following loss to Minnesota, but they'll have trouble losing to weak Saints. Besides quarter-back Roman Garbriel 14, a bounce-back guy.

Denver 31, Washington 20—Interesting battle between rushing leaders, AFC's Floyd Little for Broncos and NFC's Larry Brown for Redskins. Denver defense tougher, Little gets more yardage, Brown wins.

New York Giants 24, New York Jets 14—They've been arguing this one since AFL was born 11 years ago. With Giants' Fran Tarkenton hot and Joe Namath out of Jets' line-up there's virtually no reason to argue anymore.

Boston 28, Buffalo 21—Joe Kapp, who has been mauled ever since he joined the Patriots engineers his first victory. Despite victory over Jets Buffalo offense lacks cohesion.

Atlanta 17, Chicago 10—The Bears gave Detroit a tussle and Dick Gordon is catching passes at a fast clip, but the Falcons get a bit stronger every week.

MONDAY NIGHT
Pittsburgh 27, Cincinnati 20—Pupil, Steelers' Coach Chuck Noll, beats teacher Bengals' Paul Brown, with Terry Bradshaw clicking big for the first time since the exhibition season.

Junior ABC Unit Sought For Circleville

On Nov. 8 a meeting will be held at Prairie Lanes, to organize an American Junior Bowling Congress chapter in Circleville.

Time of the meeting will be 2 p.m. All parents, teachers, civic clubs and any interested person are welcome to attend. The purpose of a local association is to provide an organization of individuals interested in the growth of junior bowling.

Objectives of this organization is to unite into a local AJBC group all qualified junior bowlers in the city and area to be served by the association, and to provide a channel for AJBC services and aid in the promotion of the national program for AJBC, to familiarize local instructors, coaches, sponsors and other bowling leaders with the benefits of the AJBC, to educate youth in the value of sportsmanship and good citizenship.

Detroit Red Wings Stop Bruins, 5-3

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings led by two old smoothies, polished off the Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins 5-3 Thursday night in a National Hockey League game.

Detroit's Alex Delvecchio put in his 400th and 401st NHL goals in a career that is now in its 20th season. Aiding Delvecchio's effort was another NHL veteran, Gordie Howe, who pasted up his 100th regular season assist on the second Delvecchio tally.

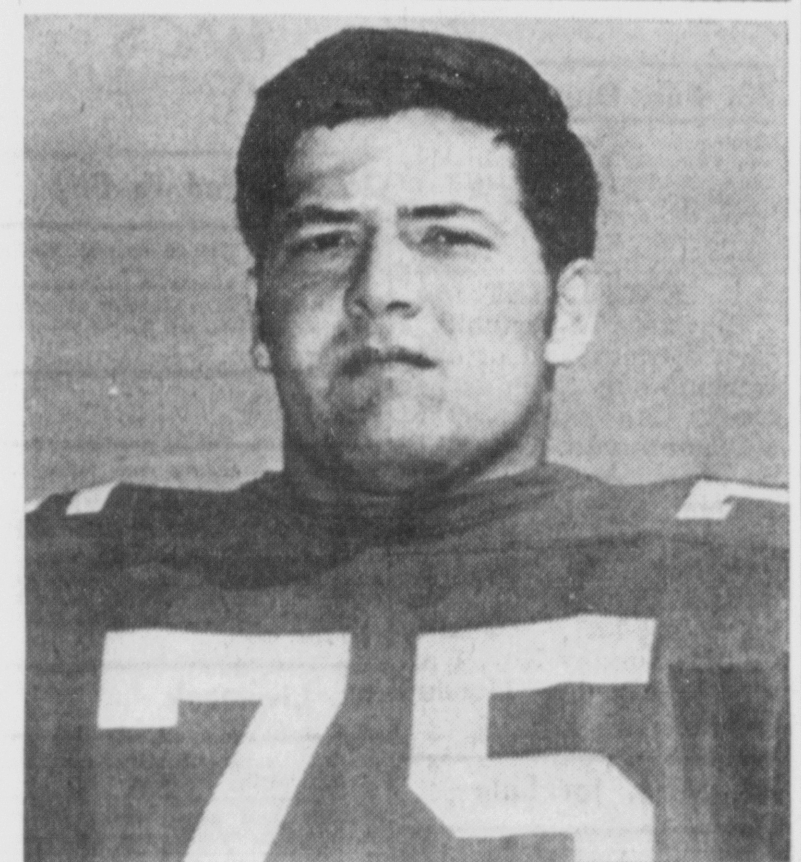

The slow starting Wings have a 3-6-1 record this season but no one would have known that Thursday night as the Wings outshot Boston 43-35 in breaking a four game winless streak.

Gabriel, 5 foot 10 and 215-pounds, is a senior in the field of natural science and physical education and on the Dean's list. He was a star athlete at Logan Elm High School where he earned letters in football, basketball and baseball. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Gabriel, Route 1.

OSU Faces Northwestern In Battle For Bowl Berth

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maury Daigneau has ground support for his Northwestern passing bombs this time, and it's making Woody Hayes, the Ohio State football general, squirmish.

The Wildcats, the surprise of the Big Ten race with a well-rounded attack, match 3-0 records with Ohio State Saturday. The victor will become the leading Rose Bowl contender from the conference.

Daigneau passed last year for school records of 22 completions and 294 yards against the second-ranked Buckeyes. However, the Northwestern rushers wound up with a minus 29 yards, and Ohio State was a 35-6 winner.

The Wildcats have rushed for 1,140 yards and passed for 873 more in a 3-3 season to 5-0 for second-ranked Ohio State.

More important, they have become a ball control team and added the league's leading total defense. That bothers Hayes.

Northwestern looked so good on the films the Ohio State mentor had of them this season that he asked Notre Dame Coach

Ara Parseghian for movies of the Irish' 35-14 triumph over the Wildcats.

"The films show them to be an exceptionally fine football team. It's a shame they dropped those close games outside the league. It would be a truer indication of their ability," Hayes said.

The Wildcats, after the opener against Notre Dame, were nudged by UCLA 12-7 and SMU 21-20 before taking apart Illinois 48-0, Wisconsin 24-14 and Purdue 38-14 in the conference.

Ohio State, a prohibitive favorite Saturday before an Ohio Stadium crowd of 86,000 defeated Illinois 48-29 last week after beating Michigan State 29-0 and Minnesota 28-8 in the Big Ten. Mike Adamle rushed for just 30 yards in 13 carries against Ohio State last fall. This season the 190-pound Wildcat fullback lead the conference with 441 yards, 52 ahead of Ohio State fullback John Brockington and Michigan's Billy Taylor.

Northwestern, never rich in depth, has avoided crippling injuries. Ohio State also will be in its best physical shape of the season for the mileseason showdown.

Crime Drug Abuse Campus Unrest Consumer Fraud

Herbert

CRIME — Organized crime can only be fought by organized statewide law enforcement agencies. John D. Herbert proposes that the Bureau of Criminal Identification be expanded with top caliber personnel to coordinate the all-out attack on organized crime in Ohio in cooperation with all local enforcement agencies.

DRUG ABUSE — Only when drug abuse is reduced can we lower the increasing crime rate caused in part by the cravings of addicts. John D. Herbert proposes to expand the narcotics bureau in the Attorney General's Office to attack drug abuse on three fronts; the source, the pushers and the users. The youth of our State must be protected.

CAMPUS UNREST — Campus unrest, violence and destruction of property must not be tolerated. As Attorney General, John D. Herbert will gather evidence on those persons going from campus to campus for the express purpose of disrupting our institutions of higher learning. They must be prosecuted. Herbert will also advise the universities as to their legal responsibilities and duties in prosecuting those cited for leading or participating in violent or disruptive campus incidents.

CONSUMER FRAUD — Ohioans are cheated of an estimated $300 million annually through various frauds. John D. Herbert proposes to intensify efforts to expose and prosecute those engaged in fraudulent and deceptive practices against the citizens of Ohio.

NEW YORK (AP) — Only a short time back networks' prime time was awash with comedy-whimsy and comedy-fantasy. In recent years some have been big hits before they passed on—"Batman" was one—and some were dogs that scurried away fast including "Captain Nice."

"Bewitched" on ABC, probably the first of the fantasy situation comedies, still is a stalwart of the ABC lineup. It seems to have inspired others. "I Dream of Jeannie" came along and while never really a hit stayed on for several seasons. "The Flying Nun" soared, but never too high, until she was grounded permanently after three seasons.

Currently on the TV scene there is but one other situation comedy in the "Bewitched" category. "Nanny and the Professor." Nanny's magic, however, is attributed to her psychic powers.

Thursday night's program was typical of the series' approach. Samantha the pretty young witch married to the human advertising man, is handed a reproduction of a Revere teapot which is to be presented to a prospective client of her husband. The silver piece gets mixed up in a magic swirl. When a nervous maladroitness attempts to replace the teapot, she accidentally evokes

Paul Revere himself and his horse.

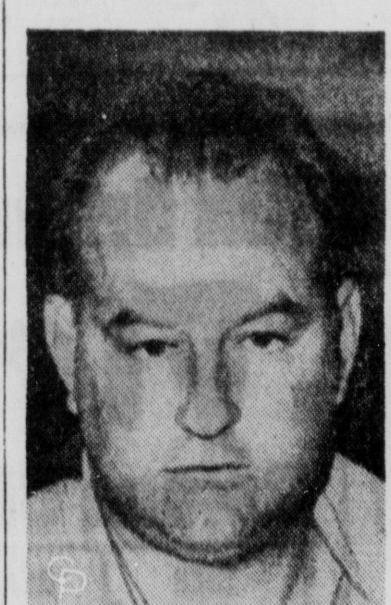

One of the most interesting things about Bewitched is that it attracts an audience that cuts across the age spectrum. That adults can absorb this sort of imaginative nonsense and all the camera tricks is due largely to the beguiling acting of the cast, headed by Elizabeth Montgomery. Dick Sargent plays her constantly exasperated husband, while Agnes Moorehead Maurice Evans and Paul Lynde pop in and out as the heroine's amusing witch and warlock relatives.

CBS' announcement on the season's programming said that "Ted Mack and the Original Amateur Hour" would start its 13th season on the network in October.

But the month is nearly over and the program's producer has yet to learn when, if at all, the program will be resumed. The half hour has a sponsor and Mack and staff have plans ready to begin production on signal. Last season what with doubleheader football, the Sunday afternoon program was preempted 22 times.

If the program disappears, it still will have a place in history. It started under Major Edward Bowes on radio in the 1930s. It moved into television in 1948, with Mack, who was on Bowes' staff as host.

747 Emergency Landing Made In Newfoundland

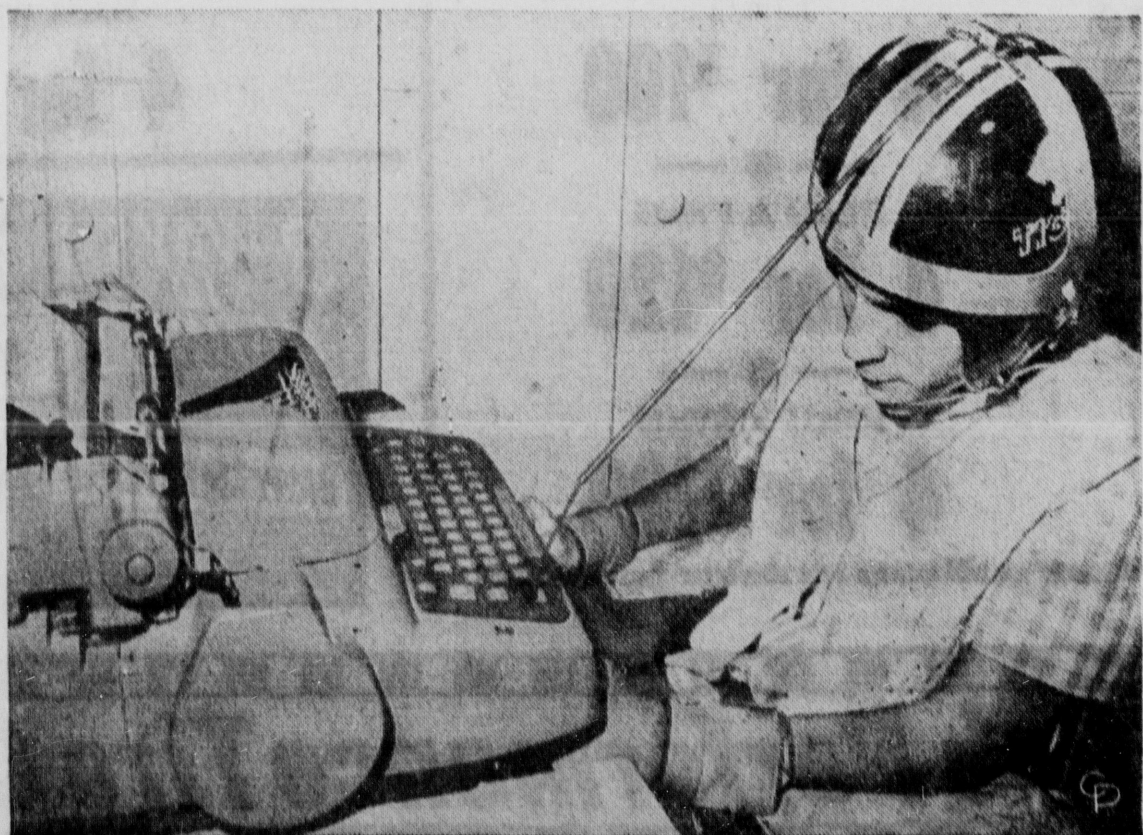

LONDON (AP) — A Pan American Airways jumbo jet carrying 132 passengers nonstop from Los Angeles to London made an emergency landing today at Gander, Newfoundland, because of engine trouble.

The airline reported in London that the Boeing 747 landed after the outer right engine lost oil pressure.

The flight No. 120, was expected to reach London about six hours later.

It was the second jumbo jet emergency for Pan American this week. An engine broke into flames Tuesday as a jumbo landed at London's Heathrow Airport and 89 passengers escaped by sliding down chutes. Five were slightly hurt.

Greenhouses heat with gas and use carbon dioxide, a product of natural gas combustion and plant food, to help glassed-in herbage grow.

PEN PALS ALL OVER THE WORLD—Cerebral palsy victim Debbie Urban, 15, San Antonio, Tex., uses an antenna-like pointer attached to a helmet to answer letters from pen pals all over the world on her electric typewriter. She has no effective use of her arms or legs and only partial control of her head movements. It takes her about three hours to type a page.
